Slaying Of School Head In New England Baffling To Police

SLAYING SHROUDED DEEP WITH MYSTERY

Motive For Slaying Is Unknown—Footprints Are Only Clue Discovered

(International News Service)
NORTHFIELD, Mass. Sept. 15.—With footprints their only clue troopers pushed an intensive search in three states today for the unknown assassin who shot and killed Dr. Elliott Speer, noted educator and headmaster of the famous Mount Hermon school and seminary here in the liberty of his home last night.

Completely at a loss for a motive
for the murder, detectives had virtually no evidence to aid them. Dr.
Speer, staggering from the library
with a charge of buckshot in his chest, collapsed and died in his wife's arms without speaking.

Shot Through Window

The murderers sneaked through the shrubbery surrounding the house and fired at Dr. Speer with a shotgun through an open window.

His footprints on the ground outside proved the only clue to his identity.

Dr. Speer, who was 35 years old, was the son of the Rev. Doctor Robert Elliott Speer of New York, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church since 1901. The elder Speer, a theologian known throughout the world through his numerous books, formerly was president of the federal council of churches of Christ in America and during the war was chairman of the general wartime committee of churches.

In the house at the time were the murdered educator's wife, the former Molly Welles of Philadelphia, her father, Dr. A. J. Welles, her mother's two servants and the three Speer children.

Mrs. Speer and her parents told police they heard the shot, raced to the study and were just in time to meet him staggering from the room.

Methodists Are Thrilled By Pageant Presentation Before Erie Conference

evening when a group of talented a feature of the Erie Conference.

The pageant began with the begin-worship to retain their ideals of liv-

Tide Of Textile Strike Violence Is Ebbing Slowly

Fresh Controversy Is Injected By Speech Of General Johnson

STRIKE LEADERS SEEK NEW TIE-UP

Communist Menace Is Reported Prevalent In Some Districts

(International News Service)
The tide of violence in the far flung textile strike ebbed slowly
today but impartial reports
from International News Service staff writers clearly indicated that the menace of communism still reared its head in strike areas both above and below the Mason-Dixon line.

Meanwhile, fresh controversy—involving a high administration chieftain—was injected into the situation with outbreak of a feud between Recovery Administrator Hugh
S. Johnson and Matthew Woll, A. F.
of L. vice president.

Assail Johnson's Statement
Assailing Johnson's statement that the strike is an "absolute violation"
of a management-labor agreement
effected last June, Woll pointed out that the NRA leader represents the president and declares:
"It becomes him, as administrator of the NRA to manifest his personal feelings and prejudices against labor."

Johnson's statement, made before a gathering of code authorities in
New York, included a striking tribute to George A. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute, for whom the administrator said, his
"heart weeps" because of Sloan's efforts to compose differences between the owner and employe factions and to obtain concessions for the workers.

Seek To Extend Strike
Strike leaders went aggressively forward today to broaden the strike front with an appeal to all transport workers to cripple textile imports from foreign countries by refusing to handle textiles imported to replace products that normally are made in this country.

While labor and management
continued to put forward widely variant claims with regard to effectiveness of the mass walkout, now ending its second week, the presidential mediation board at Washington was extending its work to include a detailed study of data submitted by both sides for inclusion in its report to the executive by October 1.
However, despite conferences with

She had been shot to death.

The tide of violence in the far
flung textile strike ebbed slowly
today but impartial reports
from International News Service staff writers clearly indi-munistism still reared its head in strike areas both above and be-

Meanwhile, fresh controversy—involving a high administration chief-

tion with outbreak of a feud between Recovery Administrator Hugh
S. Johnson and Matthew Woll, A. F.
of L. vice president.

Assail Johnson's Statement
Assailing Johnson's statement that
the strike is an "absolute violation"
of a management-labor agreement
effected last June, Woll pointed out that the NRA leader represents the president and declared:
"It will become him as administrator of the NRA to manifest his personal feelings and prejudices
against labor."

Johnson's statement, made before
a gathering of code authorities in
New York, included a striking tribute to George A. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute, for whom the administrator said his
"heart weeps" because of Sloan's efforts to compose differences between the owner and employe factions and to obtain concessions for
the workers.

Seek To Extend Strike
Strike leaders went aggressively forward today to broaden the strike
front with an appeal to all transport workers to cripple textile imports from foreign countries by refusing to handle textiles "imported
to replace products that normally
are made in this country."

While labor and management
continued to put forward widely variant claims with regard to effectiveness of the mass walkout, now ending its second week, the presidential mediation board at Washington was extending its work to include a detailed study of data submitted by both sides for inclusion in its re-

Slaying Of School Head In New England Baffling To Police

Dr. Elliott Speer, Noted Educator, Shot And Killed

Officers Hunt Assassin Who Fired Deadly Charge Through Window

SLAYING SHROUDED
DEEP WITH MYSTERY

Motive For Slaying Is Unknown—Footprints Are
Only Clue Discovered

(International News Service)
NORTHFIELD, Mass. Sept. 15.—With footprints their only clue
troopers pushed an intensive search in three states today for
the unknown assassin who shot and killed Dr. Elliott Speer, noted educator and head master of the famous Mount Hermon
school and seminary here in the library of his home last night.

Completely at a loss for a motive
for the murder, detectives had virtually no evidence to aid them. Dr.
Speer, staggering from the library
with a charge of buckshot in his chest, collapsed and died in his wife's arms without speaking.

Shot Through Window
The murderers sneaked through
the shrubbery surrounding the house and fired at Dr. Speer with a shotgun through an open window.
His footprints on the ground outside proved the only clue to his identity.

Dr. Speer, who was 35 years old, was the son of the Rev. Doctor Robert Elliott Speer of New York, secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church
since 1891. The elder Speer, a the-ologist known throughout the world through his numerous books, formerly was president of the federal council of churches of Christ in America and during the war was chairman of the general wartime
committee of churches.

In the house at the time were the murdered educator's wife, the former Holly Welles of Philadelphia,
her father, Dr. A. J. Welles, her mother: two servants and the three Speer children.

Mrs. Speer and her parents told police they heard the shot, raced to
the study and were just in time to meet him staggering from the room.

Dr. George W. Seitz the borough's crusading councilman, has received threats at various times and they will be compared with the Cummings' missives to determine if both are of the same handwriting and lettering, Haggerty said.

"Neither of us (Seitz and Hagg-

PRESIDENT CONFERS ON STRIKE SITUATION

May Be Unable To Attend Race

Strike Situation Holds Key To President's Race Attendance

CHIEF EXECUTIVE GUEST OF ASTOR

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—President Roosevelt, a guest aboard Vincent Astor's yacht The Nourmahal, steamed into waters off this point today and prepared to meet Secretary of War Dorn and Maj. Gen. Fox Connor for a conference on textile strike conditions in this state.

It conditions warrant such action, the president planned to leave the Nourmahal, board a navy destroyer and remain hereabouts in order to be in as close touch with developments as possible.

The meeting between the president, his secretary of war and Connor, who commands the first corps area of the army, was to take place at Fort Adams, near here. On the results of that meeting will depend the president's subsequent action.

Hopes To See Race

Quietly reports from the strike torn sectors of the state led the president to believe he might be able to see the international yacht races, for which he came here. On the other hand, he showed plainly that he would not leave this sector unless things appear to be quieting down in the strike regions.

In addition to all these plans, the executive maintained constant connection with land by radio aboard the Astor yacht.

Unless he remains here on a destroyer, Mr. Roosevelt expected to leave the Nourmahal for the yacht course during the morning. He is an ardent lover of sailing and anticipated with keen pleasure the sight of the American yacht, Rainbow, and England's Endeavour, ripping through the water for the America's cup.

Preceding the mass service Rev. J. C. A. MacDonald will conduct the Conference Love Feast at 9 o'clock. The mass service starts at 10:30. It is open to the public to the limit of the seating capacity of the Cathedral.

Conference. This service is always one of the most impressive of the conference.

Evening Service

At 7:30 in the evening there will be a service in the Epworth M. E. with Rev. W. E. Hammaker of Youngstown, O., delivering the sermon. Rev. Hammaker's addresses have been one of the many high spots of this conference and the church auditorium will undoubtedly be crowded to hear him Sunday night.

On Monday morning the conference closes with the announcement of appointments of the various ministers. There will be a brief devotional service preceding this and adjournment will follow the appointments.

As the conference closes it is fair to say that Epworth M. E. has handled the sessions in splendid fashion. The comments of the visiting ministers and laymen have been most commendatory and the size of the church has lent itself nicely to the work of the conference.

Everything has been handled in a systematic manner. The ministers were all assigned to homes before they arrived. The meals in the church dining rooms have been on time and have been largely attended and the sessions in the church auditorium have been inspiring and instructive.

It has been 21 years since the Erie Conference held its sessions in New Castle and coincidentally this year is the Sesqui-Centennial of Methodism in the United States. After the splendid treatment of the ministers and laymen it seems safe to venture the statement that it will not be 21 years before they are held here again.

Communist Menace

Meanwhile, reports from International News Service staff writers sent to the strike fields showed that the communist influence, although somewhat subdued, still constituted a definite threat to peaceful settlement of the dispute.

William K. Hutchinson, keen analyst and trained observer, reported that at Providence, R. I., federal authorities had joined with state authorities in watching for a swing moving band of communist terrorists suspected of plotting and inciting mob uprisings. In this connection, fifty communists already were behind jail bars in Rhode Island, and eight others in Worcester, Mass.

The communist influence also was at work in North Carolina where David P. Senter, veteran reporter, found communists attempting to "chisel in" on the strikers' ranks.

Johnson Bronze Company Case

Heard By Board

Hearing Takes Place Before National Labor Relations Board Friday

Charges that the Johnson Bronze Company had failed to reinstate six employees after the strike of the early summer were heard by the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, D. C., on Friday. Representing the company, President P. J. Flaherty was present and had as counsel attorneys Earl E. Reed and John E. Laughlin, Jr., of Pittsburgh. Mr. Reed represented the Worthington Steel Company in their case before the board.

The International Brotherhood of Foundry Employees, Local 62 was represented by the president of the local Charles J. Doerr and Harry Blane. In addition W. A. Calvin, assistant secretary of the Metal Trades department of the American Federation of Labor appeared for them.

At a previous hearing by the Pittsburgh board the six employees were ordered reinstated. This was not done according to the charges and the matter was carried up to the National Board.

Highland Pupils' Show Seen By School Parents

The gorgeous offerings of hundreds of North Hill flower gardens were massed for public display on Friday as Highland Avenue school's 400 or more pupils staged their annual flower and vegetable show under the direction of the school's nature study department.

Miss Pearl M. Hutchinson, who directs nature study work at Highland, supervised the flower and vegetable display yesterday, assisted by judges of the Garden Club who are always invited to pass judgment on the entries. Mrs. Chancery Davis, Mrs. George Glass and Mrs. A. E. Tullis served this year.

Parents arrived at the building all day long to see the show while the classes marched with their teacher to the display room at appointed times during the day.

Participating were almost 350 pupils. It was estimated, with judges awarding honor places to the following representatives of the six grades at the building:

Grade 1B—First, Lawrence and Croix Pitzer; second, Joan Mills; third, Mary Lowers. Grade 1A—First Ann E. Green; second, Narda Cramer; third, Margaretta Bergman; h. m., Peggy Lee Starr. A few minutes after the start followed brought Rainbow about on the starboard tack to keep his opponent covered.

Coast guard cutters, scurrying hither and yon like busy bees, kept the huge excursion fleet in control along the north flank, while on the south destroyers shot here and there along the ocean driving back a few venturesome yacht trying to edge closer for a better view of Rainbow and Endeavour.

Eight airplanes circling overhead lent a colorful touch to the scene as the boats continued to beat into the wind.

Endeavour Crawls Up

After 30 minutes of racing Endeavour began to crawl up on the American defender and soon had improved her position to such an extent that it appeared she might be able to cross Rainbow's bow.

Endeavour's Genoa was drawing better than Rainbow's and she was footing faster, although still holding a course somewhat to leeward. The surrounding armada kept pace with the two yachts kicking up their heels ahead and thousands of faces could be seen lining the rails of the various craft.

President Roosevelt, aboard Vincent Astor's palatial yacht Nourmahal, was noted animatedly talking to those around him and peering through a pair of binoculars.

At 11:30 E. S. T. both yachts were well over toward Outlyunk, one of a group of small islands in Buzzard's Bay.

Endeavour was still trying vainly to cross Rainbow's bow and a fine battle developed between the rival skippers.

Sopwith and Vanderbilt had both stuck to the starboard tack almost from the start. But now, as rain began to fall and the breeze freshened, Rainbow came about on the port tack and immediately the British skipper followed suit.

At this time it was almost impossible to tell which was in the lead, as they were a considerable distance apart.

Mrs. C. A. Moorhouse of New Bedford brought a beautiful dahlia bloom to the office of The News today. It was of the Judge Moran variety, a variegated pink and yellow with a large double bloom.

Something new in the way of flowers was brought to The News today by George W. Haine of New Castle, R. I. These flowers are called "Tigridia", and although it is easily seen they are just as peculiar a flower as Pa New has even seen. And beautiful, too, in brilliant color, odd markings and extra long pistils.

At 11:30 E. S. T. both yachts were well over toward Cuttyhunk, one of a group of small islands in Buzzard's Bay.

Endeavour was still trying vainly to cross Rainbow's bow and a fine battle developed between the rival skippers.

Sopwith and Vanderbilt had both stuck to the starboard tack almost from the start. But now, as rain began to fall and the breeze freshened, Rainbow came about on the port tack and immediately the British skipper followed suit.

At this time it was almost impossible to tell who was in the lead, as they were a considerable distance apart.

Mrs. C. A. Moorhouse of New Bedford brought a beautiful dahlia bloom to the office of The News today. It was of the Judge Moran variety, a variegated pink and yellow with a large double bloom.

Something new in the way of flowers was brought to The News today by George W. Haine of New Castle, R. D. 3. These flowers are called "Tigrida", and although it is easily seen they are kin to the Tiger Lily family, they are just as peculiar a flower as Pa New has even seen. And beautiful, too, in brilliant color, odd markings and extra long pistils.

PRESIDENT CONFERS ON STRIKE SITUATION

May Be Unable To Attend Race

Strike Situation Holds Key To President's Race Attendance

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—President Roosevelt, a guest aboard Vincent Astor's yacht The Nourmahal, steamed into waters off this point today and prepared to meet Secretary of War Dorn and Maj. Gen. Fox Connor for a conference on textile strike conditions in this state.

If conditions warrant such action, the president planned to leave the Nourmahal, board a navy destroyer and remain hereabouts in order to be in close touch with developments in the strike regions.

The meeting between the president, his secretary of war and Connor, who commands the first corps area of the army, was to take place at Fort Adams, near here. On the results of that meeting will depend the president's subsequent action.

Quitting reports from the strike torn sectors of the state led the president to believe he might be able to see the international yacht races, for which he came here. On the other hand, he showed plainly that he would not leave this sector unless things appear to be quieting down in the strike regions.

In addition to all these plans, the executive maintained constant connection with land by radio aboard the Astor yacht.

Unless he remains here on a destroyer, Mr. Roosevelt expected to leave the Nourmahal for the yacht course during the morning. He is an ardent lover of sailing, and anticipated with keen pleasure the racing of the American yacht, Rainbow, and England's Endeavour, ripping through the water for the America's cup.

stricken with illness and in his place David Reed, director of the Reformed Presbyterian church music will handle the baton. The "Hallelujah Chorus" will be sung as will a number of other heavy choral numbers.

Preceding the mass service Rev. J. C. MacDonald will conduct the Conference Love Feast at 9 o'clock. The mass service starts at 10:30. It is open to the public to the limit of the seating capacity of the Cathedral.

At 3 o'clock the Ordination and Consecration service will be held in the Epworth M. E. At this service a group of young men will be admitted to the ministry of the church in various capacities. Some will be raised to the post of deacons, others as elders and still others will be admitted to the membership of Erie.

FLORAL DESIGN
There is as much difference in flowers as there is in rainbows. Take the same collection of flowers and have different designers put them together and you have entirely different results. NOTICE!
To Officials of All Borough Councils, Township Supervisors and School Boards and Officials of All Other Sub-Divisions:—

You are requested to come, or send your representative, to the City Council Chambers of New Castle, Penna., at 1:30 P. M., on Friday, September 21st, 1934 for the purpose of hearing an explanation of the work plan of the F. E. R. A. under the new set up and discussing work projects in the various districts.

Each sub-division, under the new plan, is expected to provide projects to care for its own unemployed and it is imperative that immediate action be taken along this line.

After conferences between city council, county commissioners and this committee, we have information of interest on work subjects.

CO-OPERATIVE WORKERS OF AMERICA,
J. C. Dufford, Pres.

Conference. This service is always one of the most impressive of the conference.

Evening Service

At 7:30 in the evening there will be a service in the Epworth M. E. with Rev. W. E. Hammaker of Youngstown, O., delivering the sermon. Rev. Hammaker's addresses have been one of the many high spots of this conference and the church auditorium will undoubtedly be crowded to hear him Sunday night.

On Monday morning the conference closes with the announcement of appointments of the various ministers. There will be a brief devotional service preceding this and adjournment will follow the appointments.

As the conference closes it is but fair to say that Epworth M. E. has handled the sessions in splendid fashion. The comments of the visiting ministers and laymen have been most commendatory and the size of the church has lent itself nicely to the work of the conference.

Everything has been handled in a systematic manner. The ministers were all assigned to homes before the sessions in splendid fashion. The comments of the visiting ministers and laymen have been most commendatory and the size of the church has lent itself nicely to the work of the conference.

It has been 21 years since the Erie Conference held its sessions in New Castle and coincidentally this year is the Sesqui-Centennial of Methodism in the United States. After the splendid treatment of the ministers and laymen it seems safe to venture the statement that it will not be 21 years before they are held here again.

strike leaders yesterday, there was no significant move by the board.

Communist Menace

Meanwhile, reports from International News Service staff writers sent to the strike fields showed that the communist influence, although somewhat subdued, still constituted a definite threat to peaceful settlement of the dispute.

William K. Hutchinson, keen analyst and trained observer, reported that at Providence, R. I., federal authorities had joined with state authorities of four New England states in watching for a swift moving band of communist terrorists suspected of plotting and inciting mob uprisings. In this connection, fifty communists already were behind jail bars in Rhode Island, and eight others in Worcester, Mass.

The communist influence also was at work in North Carolina where David P. Sentner, veteran reporter, found communists attempting to "chisel in" on the strikers ranks.

Johnson Bronze Company Case Heard By Board

Hearing Takes Place Before National Labor Relations Board Friday

Charges that the Johnson Bronze Company had failed to reinstate six employees after the strike of the early summer were heard by the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, D. C., on Friday. Representing the company, President P. J. Flaherty was present and had as counsel attorneys Earl E. Reed and John E. Laughlin, Jr., of Pittsburgh. Mr. Reed recently represented the Weirton Steel Company in their case before the board.

At a previous hearing by the Pittsburgh board the six employees were ordered reinstated. This was not done according to the charges and the matter was carried up to the National Board.

Highland Pupils' Show Seen By School Parents

The gorgeous offerings of hundreds of North Hill flower gardens were massed for public display on Friday as Highland Avenue school's 400 or more pupils staged their annual flower and vegetable show under the direction of the school's nature study department.

ENDEAVOUR AND RAINBOW START CUP RACE SERIES

with the greatest flotilla these shores ever saw spread out in their wake. A few minutes after the start Vanderbilt brought Rainbow about on the starboard tack to keep his opponent covered.

Coast guard cutters, scurrying hither and yon like busy bees, kept the huge excursion fleet in control along the north flank, while on the south destroyers shot here and there along the ocean driving back a too venturesome yacht trying to edge closer for a better view of Rainbow and Endeavour.

Eight airplanes circling overhead lent a colorful touch to the scene as the boats continued to beat into the wind.

Endeavour Crawls Up
After 30 minutes of racing Endeavour began to crawl up on the American defender and soon had improved her position to such an extent that it appeared she might be able to cross Rainbow's bow.

Endeavour's Genoa was drawing better than Rainbow's and she was footing faster, although still holding a course somewhat to leeward. The surrounding armada kept pace with the two yachts kicking up their heels ahead and thousands of faces could be seen lining the rails on the various craft.

President Roosevelt, aboard Vincent Astor's palatial yacht Nourmahal, was noted animatedly talking to those around him and peering through a pair of binoculars. At 11:30 E. S. T. both yachts were well over toward Cuttyhunk, one of a group of small islands in Buzzard's Bay.

Endeavour was still trying vainly to cross Rainbow's bow and a fine battle developed between the rival skippers.

The selection of a funeral is usually made at a time when clear thinking is difficult. Yet, there is as much difference in funerals as in any other commodity, and what you receive depends upon the wisdom of your choice. Therefore, it would be wise to investigate this important matter now so that worry and doubt will be avoided later.

YOU CAN'T WIN AN ARGUMENT

In all my life I've never won an argument.
I've tried. Certainly I've tried. Thousands of times. Since I was knee-high to a grasshopper I've been trying to win them. But never once have I been the victor in any argument with cat, puppy, child, man or woman.

I've won other things. Once I won a footrace. Once I won a pair of shoes in a raffle. I won $20 once for a funny poem. I won a pool on the score of a world series game. I've matched coins to see who'd pay the street car fare and won. But never any arguments.

I've argued about education. About child's training. About freedom. About independence, evolution, the nature of man and woman, socialism, communism, anarchism, politics. About books. About economies. About religion. About people. Hot and heavy. Up and down. In and out. From twilight to midnight, from dark to dawn. Amicably, irritably, patiently, explosively, quietly and loudly I have argued.

But never once did any opponent of mine in any argument finally say to me, "I quit. You win. You are right and that I am wrong." Those people I have argued with always have been stubborn. They wanted their own way. They couldn't see the truth when I placed it before them on a silver platter. And they wouldn't give up. Of course sometimes after much argument I have had my own way. When I was a youngster I probably wore my sweater out until she let me do what I wanted. Or, later, some opponent had to catch a train and stopped arguing because of that. But I have never had what you would call an intellectual conquest, and I am firmly convinced that nobody else ever won an argument, either.

I should admit I suppose, that neither have I ever LOST any arguments. Of course you understand, I would have admitted defeat gracefully if any of my opponents had ever been right and I was wrong. But somehow they never were. They have always been stubborn, perverse badly informed and they didn't look at things from the right point of view. And I couldn't surrender my point of view in favor of theirs. Of course you understand how it is. You've had arguments, too.

BE JUST AND GENEROUS

When the owner of an automobile asks you to take a trip with him do you allow him to pay all the bills of the trip?
Surely it should not be considered sufficient for your part that you merely pay for his meals.
The owner of a car make a liberal contribution toward the expense when he uses his automobile.
You should be expected to meet the other outlays.
Even by so doing, you enjoy a cheap trip, so doing, you enjoy a cheap trip.

Naturally if you and your friends make a practice of either providing transportation or acting as host in other ways it is a trade off proposition.
Otherwise, you certainly exhibit a wrong spirit when you allow any friend to pay for gas, oil, meals and lodging unless he is a more than well-to-do person.
There are a great many auto ride chislers.
They accept everything that is done for them apparently without any thought of obligations.
There are men of small means, however, who are too foolishly inconsistent upon making the necessary financial outlays of a trip.
It is wiser to be just before you're generous.

IT'S IN THE HAZARDS

Sometimes the drives are straight and true.
Sometimes they find the rough. Some days the best that we can do is to go good enough.
Twixt joy and grief the fairway lies. And happy smile and frown.
But who'd play golf for exercise If every putt went down?

Sometimes the game delights the soul.
Sometimes it burns and sears. One day in part we shoot a hole. The next a seven appears.
Sometimes a cheering score we make.
The next a ninety eight.
But who'd play golf for friendship's sake If every shot went straight?

Sometimes, the blinkers mire us deep.
Sometimes we "scape them all. Sometimes upon the course we keep. Then through the rough we crawl.
At times, these sweet consoling words we say.
Are said "A thrush I hear!" But who'd play golf to hear the birds Were there no pits to fear?

The reason for the decline of the average human intelligence, (which, according to Dr. E. E. Frec, is an accepted fact by most anthropologists) is that modern education does not include training that will help the hands to work in co-ordination with the brain. The human brain first started to develop as the result of early man learning to use his hands to obtain his food, and to protect him from his enemies.

Stock Decline Seen as Good Omen
Speculators Begin to Lose "Hope"
Wild Parties on Certain Boats

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Decline in the stock market at the present time looked upon by conservative bankers as a good omen. They interpret such decline to mean that speculative inflationists had given up "hope."

The federal government's conservative refinancing program has had a good effect throughout the world. The dollar immediately responded to it on world exchanges. (It is sure, the United States government is supporting the dollar abroad through a stabilization fund, which is secretly operated.)

BANKERS COMPLAIN
Bankers complain that they are the object of too much criticism in regard to loans—or, rather, the lack of loans.

Says F. M. Law, president of the American Bankers association: "It stands to reason that as long as federal bank examiners believe it to be their duty to constantly hammer on loans that are admittedly good, only because they are slow, it will have the effect not only of forcing banks to make new loans, but of preventing them from making new loans except those that are liquid and of short duration."

WILD PARTIES
All persons who have ridden on certain steamers making short tours know that there are drunken parties and that not much effort is made to stop them.

On the Morris, coming from Havana to New York, there were wild parties, according to testimony. Persons threw lighted cigarettes into waste baskets, one steward told a newspaper reporter.

Such parties may prove as dangerous as bombs.

Relatives of some of the persons lost in the castle fire are fearful that counsel for the steamship company may try to escape damages by implying the fire to elements beyond the company's control—reds or what is commonly termed on the high seas as "an act of God."

Passengers on certain coastwise steamers have contended for some time that crews are inept and lax.

WHAT TAX?
Business is trying to peep behind the scenes in Washington to ascertain what new taxes the government proposes to levy.

Government experts are at work now, preparing a bill for the treasury department to submit to congress in January.

GETTING THEIRS
The three largest American shipbuilding companies, which have employed armament propaganda extensively, have received more than 100 million dollars' worth of new business from the United States government in the past year.

Those are the companies that engaged William B. Shearer in 1927 to wreck the Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States senate may extend the present munitions investigation to try to obtain answers to these questions:

1. Have companies shown collusion in armament bids?
2. Has the army not spent money considerably beyond the needs of national defense—has it not, as alleged in liberal quarters, bought equipment for an army of 4,000,000, the largest in the world?

3. Do the companies not continue to sell secrets of the army and the navy—with the permission of the army and the navy?
4. Have some firms not continued to ship ammunition in spite of embargoes? How and why?
5. Should the American government not nationalize all munition, armament and shipbuilding companies and that receive contracts from the army and the navy?

Those questions are certain to arise in the next session of the senate.

DICTATORSHIP'S
Dictatorships are not likely to be held in such esteem following this winter. Servers returning from Europe say.

Dictatorships have solved no problems, they merely have taken away liberties and provided an outlet for nationalistic emotionalism, obscuring add.

Economic conditions in Italy as well as Germany are precarious. A muzzled press, muzzled speech and muzzled opposition prevent the world from hearing the truth—until the crash.

For a year he had been Prussian minister of war. Alone among the generals he seems to have realized immediately the consequences of the battle of the Marne. While it was raging he noted in his diary: "Only one thing is certain: our General Staff has completely lost its head. Schlieffen's notes do not help any further, and so Moltke's wits come to an end."

He refers, of course, to the detailed plan evolved in 1905 by Graf Schlieffen, chief of staff, by which the French armies were to be enveloped and a rapid decision gained in the west while Russia's forces were held at bay in the east to be settled with later. With remarkable vision he counted on the intervention of the British and allowed for an expeditionary force operating in conjunction with the French. His words were: "It must come to a fight. Only make the right wing strong."

Had Schlieffen's plan been followed by the Germans, the war probably would have been won 20 years ago today.

Moltke failed to grasp the mechanics of the Schlieffen plan, and whittled away its essential idea in putting it into effect. He did not make his right wing strong. He bungled the opportunity to seize the channel ports when they lay at his mercy for two weeks.

(Donation of the Hannah was only part of Glover's contribution to this country. When it opened, he recruited a regiment of fishermen, drilled it into one of the most important units in Washington's command. His name is written large in the accounts of the victories at Trenton and Saratoga.)

Sept. 15, 1830.—The Liverpool & Manchester Railroad, in England, opened for traffic. It was the first railway in the world in which steam locomotives were used to haul cars.

Sept. 15, 1895.—Seventeen years after he adapted the expedition engine to a road vehicle, George B. Selden, Rochester, N. Y., engineer, obtained a U. S. patent on the automobile. During those 17 years

THEY WERE ON PROBATION

THE cold-blooded murder of a Philadelphia police officer by a gang of youths who should have been behind prison bars at that very time stands out as one of the most convincing of all arguments against current policies of parole and probation.

The victim was one William G. Wilson, a veteran "copper" with a fine record for courage and devotion to duty, a man with a family, a good citizen in every respect. And he was killed, shot four times, by a sneaking 22-year-old youth who had thrice pleaded guilty to serious crimes—larceny of an automobile, burglary and receiving stolen goods. The thing becomes even more ludicrous when it is learned that in his last probation late in July he was handed the suspended sentence after it had been necessary to bring him before the bar on a bench warrant for failing to appear for trial.

This is the fellow who actually carried out the brutal crime.
What about the others of his gang?

Well, the leader, who planned it all, had been arrested seven times between the ages of 16 and 21. Twice he was placed on probation on automobile-theft charges. And there was a third, his brother, who also had been discharged on a similar charge at the age of 16.

Each of the trio had a definite part in the killing of the officer, in scheming to sneak up behind him, fire a shot in his back and then—just to make "certain"—discharge three more bullets into his lifeless body as he lay in the street.

It is a gruesome, sickening, shameful story. A fine, upstanding police officer gone to his death simply because these youthful "rats" who should have been locked up in prison were freed under probationary sentences. If that isn't a shocking revelation of the system that pervades many of our big cities, there never was one.

Some youths, it is true, may be saved by paroles and suspended sentences. Courts must use their own discretion about taking action in such cases. But what excuse would be possible when young thugs like these Philadelphians come into court time after time to gain the same dose of "easy medicine"—the suspended sentence?

There can be no answer.

And just by way of retrospect, it should be remembered that the same system, in another state, turned loose that "nice boy," John Dillinger, to make a shambles of the entire nation before he was finally run to earth and shot down in the same cold-blooded manner with which he had treated his countless victims.

JAPAN'S DEMAND

Japan seems definitely committed to the policy of demanding a navy surpassed in strength by none.

For months, various and sometimes unidentified spokesmen of the Tokyo government have represented the latter as planning to make this demand at the naval conference scheduled for next year, and, in the event of its not being granted by the other powers, of refusing to become a party to any limitations agreement. In the last few days, official notice has been given the world that this is the attitude of Japan.
Instructions have been given her representatives to demand equality of tonnage with the United States and Great Britain and to refuse to accept any treaty that does not grant this.

The issue, therefore, is clear. Retreat now would seem to be virtually impossible. No room appears to be left for compromise on the part of Japan. Yet, it seems a little hard to believe that a country as limited in resources as is Japan in comparison with Great Britain and the United States would challenge these nations to a race in naval armaments. Should the challenge be accepted, Japan could have no hope of outdistancing either.

May it not be that Japan thinks that the popular demand for naval limitation is so great in the Western nations that the latter will be forced by this to bow to the Japanese demand? If so, she may find that she has followed a false clue. Japan's record in the Far East is not one to cause the world to put much faith in her protestations of friendship and peaceful intentions. The rights and interests of no nation are sacred in her eyes when they stand in the way of her ambitions. This has been demonstrated.

This record will not be overlooked when the time comes for her demand for naval equality to be considered.

UNUSUAL RECORD

Few things stand out as more remarkable in the period of depression than Chicago's Century of Progress exposition.

Its second year is proving hardly less financially successful than did its first. The attendance this year, which so far has passed the nine-million mark, probably will not be as large as last year when more than 20,000,000 persons entered the gates. Two months, however, remain, and a considerable boost probably will be given the present mark.

According to officials, there is a bright prospect that the wind up of the fair will see all of its expenses paid. A gold note issue of $10-000,000 was used in financing the exposition. Already 70 per cent of this has been paid. For the entire issue to be paid would set a record for such expositions.

Even in times of normal prosperity world fairs have been unable to meet any such measure of success as that attending Chicago's show Just where lies the secret of this is a little hard to say. That the exposition has been managed in an excellent way is evident from the results to date.

Part of the secret probably is to be found in that a really good show was put on. Effective advertising served to bring the first visitors.
As these returned home they spread the word of the excellence of the show and, thus, were instrumental in causing thousands of others to head for Chicago.

Chicago is justified in feeling proud over the success of the exposition. Because of the depression, hope was not very high at the outset that it would draw anything like the number of persons who have passed within its gates and who continue to arrive. But this fear was dispelled early in the season last year. Since then there has been little doubt that an unusual degree of success would be achieved.

YOU CAN'T WIN AN ARGUMENT

In all my life I've never won an argument.

I've tried. Certainly I've tried.
Thousands of times. Since I was knee-high to a grasshopper I've been trying to win them. But never once have I been the victor in any argument with cat, puppy, child, man or woman.

I've won other things. Once I won a footrace. Once I won a pair of shoes in a raffle. I won $20 once for a funny poem. I won a pool on the score of a world series game.
I've matched coins to see who'd pay the street car fare and won.... But never any arguments.

I've argued about education. About child's training. About freedom.
About independence, evolution, the nature of man and woman, socialism, communism, anarchism, politics. About books. About economies.
About religion. About people.... Hot and heavy. Up and down. In and out. From twilight to midnight, from dark to dawn. Amicably, ir-ritably, patiently, explosively, quietly and loudly I have argued.

But never once did any opponent of mine in any argument finally say to me, "I quit. You win. You have convinced me that you are right and that I am wrong." Those people I have argued with always have been stubborn. They wanted their own way. They couldn't see the truth when I placed it before them on a silver platter. And they wouldn't give up.... Of course sometimes after much argument I have had my own way. When I was a youngster I probably won my mother out until she let me do what I wanted. Or, later, some opponent had to catch a train and stopped arguing because of that. But I have never had what you would call an intellectual conquest, and I am firmly convinced that nobody else ever won an argument, either.

I should admit I suppose, that neither have I ever LOST any arguments. Of course you understand,
I would have admitted defeat gracefully if any of my opponents had ever been right and I was wrong.
But sometimes they never were. They have always been stubborn, perverse badly informed and they didn't look at things from the right point of view.... And I couldn't surrender my point of view in favor of theirs.... Of course you understand how it is. You've had arguments, too.

Stock Decline Seen as Good Omen
Speculators Begin to Lose "Hope"
Wild Parties on Certain Boats

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE RICHIEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Decline in the stock market at the present time is looked upon by conservative bankers as a good omen. They interpret such decline to mean that speculative inflationists had given up "hope."

The federal government's conservative refinancing program has had a good effect throughout the world. The dollar immediately responded to it on world exchanges.
To be sure, the United States government is supporting the dollar abroad through a stabilization fund, which is secretly operated.)

BANKERS COMPLAIN

Bankers complain that they are the object of too much criticism in regard to loans—or, rather, the lack of loans.

Says P. M. Law, president of the American Bankers association:

"It stands to reason that as long as federal bank examiners believe it to be their duty to constantly hammer on loans that are admittedly good, only because they are slow, it will have the effect not only of forcing banks to exert unnecessary pressure on such loans, but will prevent them from making new loans except those that are liquid and of short duration."

WILD PARTIES

All persons who have ridden on certain steamers making short tours know that there are drunken parties and that not much effort is made to stop them.

On the Morro Castle, coming from Havana to New York, there were wild parties, according to testimony.
Persons threw lighted cigars into waste baskets, one steward told a newspaper reporter.

Such parties may prove as dangerous as bombs.

Relatives of some of the persons lost in the Morro Castle fire are fearful that counsel for the steamship company may try to escape damages by implying the fire to elements beyond the company's control, or what is commonly termed on the high seas as "an act of God."

Passengers on certain coastwise steamers have contended for some time that crews are inept and lax.

Business is trying to peep behind the scenes in Washington to ascertain what new taxes the government proposes to levy.

Government experts are at work now preparing a bill for the treasury department to submit to congress in January.

GETTING THEIRS

The three largest American shipbuilding companies, which have employed armament propaganda extensively, have received more than 100 million dollars' worth of new business from the United States government in the past year.

Those are the companies that engaged William B. Shearer in 1927 to wreck the Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States senate may extend the present munitions' investigation to try to obtain answers to these questions:

1. Have companies shown collusion in armament bids?

2. Has the army not spent money considerably beyond the needs of national defense—has it not, as alleged in liberal quarters, bought equipment for an army of 4,000,000,
the largest in the world?

3. Do the companies not continue to sell secrets of the army and the navy—with the permission of the army and the navy?

4. Have some firms not continued to ship munitions in spite of embargoes? How and why?

5. Should the American government not nationalize all munition, armament and shipbuilding concerns that receive contracts from the army and the navy?

These questions are certain to arise in the next session of the senate.

DICTATORSHIP'S

Dictatorships are not likely to be held in such esteem following this winter, observers returning from Europe say.

Dictatorships have solved no problems, they merely have taken away liberties and provided an outlet for nationalistic emotionalism, observers add.

Economic conditions in Italy as well as Germany are precarious. A muzzled opposition prevent the

THEY WERE ON PROBATION

THE cold-blooded murder of a Philadelphia police officer by a gang of youths who should have been behind prison bars at that very time stands out as one of the most convincing of all arguments against current policies of parole and probation.

The victim was one William G. Wilson, a veteran "cop" with a fine record for courage and devotion to duty, a man with a family, a good citizen in every respect. And he was killed, shot four times, by a sneaking 22-year-old youth who had three pleaded guilty to serious crimes—larceny of an automobile, burglary and receiving stolen goods. The thing becomes even more ludicrous when it is learned that in his last probation late in July he was handed the suspended sentence after it had been necessary to bring him before the bar on a bench warrant for failing to appear for trial.

This is the fellow who actually carried out the brutal crime. What about the others of his gang?

Well, the leader, who planned it all, had been arrested seven times between the ages of 16 and 21. Twice he was placed on probation on automobile-theft charges. And there was a third, his brother, who also had been discharged on a similar charge at the age of 16.

Each of the trio had a definite part in the killing of the officer, in scheming to sneak up behind him, fire a shot in his back and then—just to make "certain"—discharge three more bullets into his lifeless body as he lay in the street.

It is a gruesome, sickening, shameful story. A fine, upstanding police officer gone to his death simply because these youthful "rats" who should have been locked up in prison were freed under probationary sentences. If that isn't a shocking revelation of the system that pervades many of our big cities, there never was one.

Some youths, it is true, may be saved by paroles and suspended sentences. Courts must use their own discretion about taking action in such cases. INTELLIGENCE ON DECLINE

The reason for the decline of the average human intelligence, (which, according to Dr. E. E. Free, is an accepted fact by most anthropologists) is that modern education does not include training that will help the hands to work in co-ordination with the brain. The human brain first started to develop as the result of early man learning to use his hands to obtain his food, and to protect him from his enemies.

The World At A Glance

Stock Decline Seen as Good Omen
Speculators Begin to Lose "Hope"
Wild Parties on Certain BoatsCentral Press

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Decline in the stock market at the present time is looked upon by conservative bankers as a good omen. They interpret such decline to mean that speculative inflationists had given up "hope."

The federal government's conservative refinancing program has had a good effect throughout the world. The dollar immediately responded to it on world exchanges. (To be sure, the United States government is supporting the dollar abroad through a stabilization fund, which is secretly operated.)

BANKERS COMPLAIN
Bankers complain that they are the object of too much criticism in regard to loans—or, rather, the lack of loans.

Says F. M. Law, president of the American Bankers association: "It stands to reason that as long as federal bank examiners believe it to be their duty to constantly hammer on loans that are admittedly good only because they are slow, it will have the effect not only of forcing banks to exert unnecessary pressure on such loans, but will prevent them from making new loans except those that are liquid and of short duration."

WILD PARTIES
All persons who have ridden on certain steamers making short tours know that there are drunken parties and that not much effort is made to stop them.

On the Morro Castle, coming from Havana to New York, there were wild parties, according to testimony. Persons threw lighted cigarettes into waste baskets, one steward told a newspaper reporter.

Such parties may prove as dangerous as bombs.

Relatives of some of the persons lost in the Morro Castle fire are fearful that counsel for the steamship company may try to escape damages by implying the fire to elements beyond the company's control—"reds" or what is commonly termed on the high seas as "an act of God."

Passengers on certain coastwise steamers have contended for some time that crews are inept and lax.

WHAT TAX?
Business is trying to peep behind the scenes in Washington to ascertain what new taxes the government proposes to levy.

Government experts are at work now, preparing a bill for the treasury department to submit to congress in January.

GETTING THEIRS
The three largest American shipbuilding companies, which have employed armament propaganda extensively, have received more than 100 million dollars' worth of new business from the United States government in the past year.

Those are the companies that engaged William B. Shearer in 1927 to wreck the Geneva disarmament conference.

The United States senate may extend the present munitions' investigation to try to obtain answers to these questions:

1. Have companies shown collusion in armament bids?

2. Has the army not spent money considerably beyond the needs of national defense—has it not, as alleged in liberal quarters, bought equipment for an army of 4,000,000, the largest in the world?

3. Do the companies not continue to sell secrets of the army and the navy—with the permission of the army and the navy?

4. Have some firms not continued to ship ammunition in spite of embargoes? How and why?

5. Should the American government not nationalize all munition, munition and shipbuilding concerns that receive contracts from the army and the navy?

Those questions are certain to arise in the next session of the senate.

DICTATORSHIPS
Dictatorships are not likely to be held in such esteem following this winter, observers returning from Europe say.

Dictatorships have solved no problems, they merely have taken away liberties and provided an outlet for nationalistic emotionalism, observers add.

Economic conditions in Italy as well as Germany are precarious. A muzzled press, muzzled speech and muzzled opposition prevent the world from hearing the truth—until the crash.

SUNDAY
THE WORLD WAR DAY-BY-DAY—Sept. 16, 1914.—Russians were driven out of East Prussia. The army of Ludendorff and Hindenburg invaded the Czar's country and won the Russian high command.

THE WORLD WAR DAY-BY-DAY—Sept. 15, 1914.—Same day the French reoccupied Amiens and Rheims, the allied high command learned that Gen. Erich von Falkenhayn, four days more than 53, had replaced Von Moltke in command on the western front.

For a year he had been Prussian minister of war. Along among the generals he seems to have realized immediately the consequences of the battle of the Marne. While it was raging he noted in his diary: "Only one thing is certain: our General Staff has completely lost its head. Schlieffen's notes do not help any further, and so Moltke's wits come to an end."

He refers, of course, to the detailed plan evolved in 1905 by Gen. Schlieffen, chief of staff, by which the French armies were to be enveloped and a rapid decision gained in the west while Russia's forces were held at bay in the east to be settled with later. With remarkable vision he counted on the intervention of the British and allowed for an expeditionary force operating in conjunction with the French. His dying words were: "It must come to a fight. Only make the right wing strong."

Had Schlieffen's plan been followed by the Germans, the war probably would have been won, 20 years ago today.

Moltke tried to grasp the mechanics of the Schlieffen plan, and whittled away its essential idea in putting it into effect. He did not make his right wing strong. He bungled the opportunity to seize the channel ports when they lay at his mercy for two weeks.

GREAT DAYS—Sept. 15, 1665.—Before daybreak 2,000 Amerindians appeared before New Amsterdam and a flotilla of canoes. Before they left at sundown they ravaged little old New York, massacred 100 of its white inhabitants, took 150 prisoners.

Sept. 15, 1777—First ship of the U. S. Navy began its first voyage. The ship Hannah, turned over to the government by Capt. John Glover, sailed from Marblehead, Mass., under command of an army captain, Nicholson Broughton. New day it was to encounter and capture a British vessel, attain rank as the "mother ship" of the American navy.

Donation of the Hannah was only part of Glover's contribution to this country. When it opened, he recruited a regiment of fishermen, drilled it into one of the most important units in Washington's command. His name is written large in the accounts of the victories at Trenton and Saratoga.

Sept. 15, 1830—The Liverpool & Manchester Railroad, in England, opened for traffic. It was the first railway in the world in which steam locomotives were used to haul cars.

Sept. 15, 1895.—Seventeen years after he adapted the explosion engine to a road vehicle, George B. Selden, Rochester, N. Y., engineer, obtained a U. S. patent on the automobile. During those 17 years

City Engineer Harry Hoskins has advised city council that he will obtain and establish a radio in Carey alley, which is situated between Delaware avenue and Upton alley. A petition contained the request and was submitted to council recently. Hoskins said he had investigated the petition and learned that the reason for it being submitted was a water condition which had been reported. He has told the property owners in the alley that the remedy can be secured, he reported.

Council has adopted a resolution approving the action of the city engineer in using city machinery and employees to spread amosite, bought by property owners, in several sections. He said that in the resurfacing of streets it was found that there was not an adequate curbing in certain places so that the water was not held back and the material, as a result the debris was left in bad condition. He said this was particularly true in Sampson street and South Croton avenue. He conferred with various members of council informally and was authorized to assist the property owners in remedying this situation by using the city water and employees to spread the material, which was paid for, he says, by the property owners.

Some time ago J. H. Boughter, 465-67 East Washington street lodged a sidewalk complaint with the city and his complaint was justified according to the city engineer's report made recently to council. According to the report Boughter paid in 1930 for repairing the sidewalks in front of the two properties and showed a receipt to prove his statement. The damage was done probably at the time the street was widened but has only recently shown up. According to Hoskins the city should alleviate the situation by relaying six or seven feet of sidewalk. He was told by council to do the work when the city laid new sidewalks along Jackson park in East Washington street.

There have been several appropriations which have been overdrawn in city hall according to the number of transfers made yesterday at the behest of Councilman Albert Hoyland who has charge of the city's finance department. This was done because no bill can be legally paid if the appropriation has been overdrawn without a motion being adopted by council. According to Hoyland's statement yesterday the city's cash is quite low. This came out when it was decided to withhold forty percent of the employees wages commencing in October. Takes have not come in as expected and there are quite a few bills that have not been approved because of the foregoing reasons.

Chalk up another piece of equipment for the department of public affairs as the result of the police show. A new typewriter was purchased yesterday with some of the money. Only a few days ago the department of police purchased four new high power rifles and what their bullets did to the motor of an auto is very obvious. One shot is sufficient to stop the car. Sometime ago the city purchased a new motorcycle and equipment for the new police cars.

Public school board a few nights ago paid compliance to the work of City Controller Wimer who also audits the school accounts. According to one of the motions on record the board thanked Wimer for his fine report. Mr. Wimer apparently does the same kind of work for the school board as he does for the city.

REV. J. L. PETRIE AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY EVE
The Rev. John L. Petrie, DuBois, a former pastor of the Grace M. E. church of this city, who is attending the Methodist conference in the city, will fill the pulpit of the First Congregational church Sunday evening as the guest preacher.

gratitude for their "deliverance" (The writer found them among mementoes in a room in the Kremlin in Moscow, a few steps away from the apartments in which Russia's own Napoleon, called Stalin, now lives.)

But neither the rigors of the autumn and winter nor the wasting of the country by the Russians made, as many suppose, Napoleon's invasion disastrous. It was epidemic spotted typhus, running through his troops like a forest fire, that beat him.

You're Wrong if You Believe—The Pilgrim Fathers emigrated to America from England. They didn't.

They came to Massachusetts from Holland, where they had lived for 12 years. They did, however, make stops on the way over at Southampton, Dartmouth and Plymouth and picked up English Pilgrims before they sailed from Plymouth in the Mayflower, 314 years ago today.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., September 14, 10 arrests on charges as follows: drunkenness 6, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 1, suspicion 1, violation of parking ordinance 1, violation of traffic regulation 1.

City Engineer Harry Hoskins has advised city council to not ordain and establish a grade in Carey alley, which is situated between Delaware avenue and Upton alley. A petition contained the request and was submitted to council recently. Hoskins said he had investigated the petition and learned that the reason for it being submitted was a water condition which can be easily remedied. He has told the property owners how the remedy can be secured, he reported.

Council has adopted a resolution approving the action of the city engineer in using city machinery and employees to spread amiesite, bought by property owners, in several sections. He said that in the resurfacing of streets it was found that there was not an adequate curbing in certain places so that there was nothing to hold the surface material and as a result the sidewalk was left in a bad condition. He said this was particularly true in Sampson street and South Crotan avenue. He conferred with various members of council informally and was authorized to assist the property owners in remedying this situation by using the city roller and employees to spread the material, which was paid for, he says, by the property owners.

Some time ago J. H. Boughter, 465-67 East Washington street lodged a sidewalk complaint with the city and his complaint is justified according to the city engineer's report made recently to council. According to the report Boughter paid in 1930 for repairing the sidewalks in front of the two properties and showed a receipt to prove his statement. The damage was done probably at the time the street was widened but has only recently shown up. According to Hoskins the city should alleviate the situation by replacing six or seven feet of sidewalk. He was told by council to do the work when the city laid new sidewalks along Jackson park in East Washington street.

There have been several appropriations which have been overdrawn in city hall according to the number of transfers made yesterday at the behest of Councilman Albert Hoyland who has charge of the city's finance department. This was done because no bill can be legally paid if the appropriation has been overdrawn without a motion being adopted by council. (Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—The traditional Who's Who party, all college get-acquainted party, will be held at Westminster college tonight at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Tonight's party will be organized after the manner of a radio chain broadcast, with various groups representing stations in the chain. Programs from the various "stations" will provide the entertainment.

Al Smith, Pittsburgh; Thomas Smith, Carnegie, and Mildred Ralston, Freeport, are in charge of the program, which is sponsored jointly by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets.

City Engineer Harry Hoskins has advised city council to not ordain and establish a grade in Carey alley, which is situated between Delaware avenue and Upton alley. A petition contained the request and was submitted to council recently. Hoskins said he had investigated the petition and learned that the reason for it being submitted was a water condition which can be easily remedied. He has told the property owners how the remedy can be secured, he reported.

Council has adopted a resolution approving the action of the city engineer in using city machinery and employees to spread amiesite, bought by property owners, in several sections. He said that in the resurfacing of streets it was found that there was not an adequate curbing in certain places so that there was nothing to hold the surface material and as a result the sidewalk was left in a bad condition. He said this was particularly true in Sampson street and South Crotan avenue. He conferred with various members of council informally and was authorized to assist the property owners in remedying this situation by using the city roller and employees to spread the material, which was paid for, he says, by the property owners.

Some time ago J. H. Boughter, 465-67 East Washington street lodged a sidewalk complaint with the city and his complaint is justified according to the city engineer's report made recently to council. According to the report Boughter paid in 1930 for repairing the sidewalks in front of the two properties and showed a receipt to prove his statement. The damage was done probably at the time the street was widened but has only recently shown up. According to Hoskins the city should alleviate the situation by replacing six or seven feet of sidewalk. He was told by council to do the work when the city laid new sidewalks along Jackson park in East Washington street.

There have been several appropriations which have been overdrawn in city hall according to the number of transfers made yesterday at the behest of Councilman Albert Hoyland who has charge of the city's finance department. This was done because no bill can be legally paid if the appropriation has been overdrawn without a motion being adopted by council. According to Hoyland's statement yesterday the city's cash is quite low. This came out when it was decided to withhold forty percent of the employees wages commencing in October. Takes have not come in as expected and there are quite a few bills that have not been approved because of the foregoing reasons.

Chalk up another piece of equipment for the department of public affairs as the result of the police show. A new typewriter was purchased yesterday with some of the money. Only a few days ago the department of police purchased four new high power rifles and what their bullets did to the motor of an auto is very obvious. One shot is sufficient to stop the car. Sometime ago the city purchased a new motorcycle and equipment for the new police cars.

Public school board a few nights ago paid compliance to the work of City Controller Wimer who also audits the school accounts. According to one of the motions on record the board thanked Wimer for his fine report. Mr. Wimer apparently does the same kind of work for the school board as he does for the city.

But neither the rigors of the autumn and winter nor the wasting of the country by the Russians made, as many suppose, Napoleon's invasion disastrous. It was epidemic spotted typhus, running through his troops like a forest fire, that beat him.

City Engineer Harry Hoskins has advised city council to not ordain and establish a grade in Carey alley, which is situated between Delaware avenue and Erie street. A petition contained the request that the alley be widened to 20 feet. Hoskins said he had investigated the petition and learned that the reason for it being submitted was a water condition which can be easily remedied. He has told the property owners how the remedy can be secured, he reported.

Council has adopted a resolution approving the action of the city engineer in using city machinery and employees to spread amosite, bought by property owners, in several sections. He said that in the resurfacing of streets it was found that there was not an adequate curbing in certain places so that there was nothing to hold the surface material and as a result the sidewalk was left in bad condition. This was particularly true in Samson street and South Croton avenue. He conferred with various members of council informally and was authorized to assist the property owners in remedying this situation by using the city material, which was paid for, he says, by the property owners.

Some time ago J. H. Boughter, 455-67 East Washington street lodged a sidewalk complaint with the city and his complaint is justified according to the city engineer's report made recently to council. According to the report Boughter paid in 1930 for repairing the sidewalks in front of the two properties and showed a receipt to prove his statement. The damage was done probably at the time the street was widened but has only recently shown up. While crossing the Slippery Rock creek at Kennedy's mills yesterday the county commissioners noticed that the water was perfectly clear, as they could see the bottom of the creek without any trouble. In less than half an hour they crossed the McCracken bridge at Rock Springs, about two miles north, and were surprised to note that the water was very muddy. They were at a loss to account for the phenomenon until they learned that there had been a heavy rain a short distance north-east of the McCracken bridge.

J. Norman Cochran presented a petition in court yesterday to have his payments of $4 per week for the support of Keller Cochran, child of the petitioner and Jane Cochran reduced. The order to pay $4 per week was made in September, 1928. Mr. Cochran was then employed and making good wages. He claims that for some time Mrs. Cochran has not been keeping the boy, but that he has been kept by Mr. and Mrs. Senheiser, and no demand for compensation has been made. He further states that he is now unemployed and unable to carry out the order of the court. An order was made continuing the case.

An unusually large number of alleged paternity cases were on the quarter sessions docket this term of court. As the children have not yet been born District Attorney Mont L. Alley presented a motion asking that the cases be continued until the December term of court. The request was granted. The cases continued are against Calvin Cox, George Johnston, Joseph Pannella, Edward Wagner and Stanley Sniezek. In a case against Edward Suszynski, the child had been born, but the mother was unable to attend court.

As a result of the findings of the grand jury there are 31 cases on the docket for trial during the next two weeks of quarter sessions court. There were 37 cases in all, but the grand jury threw out six of them by returning "not true bills." Trial of the first cases will be started on next Monday. It is probable that the cases against Roxie Long, for obtaining goods by false pretense and conspiracy to defraud, will consume considerable time, if it is insisted that all of them be tried. Some of the others who were involved in the transactions which led to Long's arrest have already entered pleas.

In the case of the commonwealth against Elrick Scarazzo, in which he was charged with larceny by bailment, a continuance was granted until the December term of court for the reason that the prosecutor in the case is too ill to appear in court as a witness.

County commissioners here are interested in a report made by the Butler county grand jury on the conduct of the county home, since the Butler county authorities seem to have had some of the same problems to solve that have confronted the local authorities. One of these is the furnishing of liquor to inmates of the home who leave it for trips down town, where they meet friends who give them the liquor. Among the recommendations which the Butler county grand jury considered would be advantageous to the conduct of their home were the following:

That inmates be required to procure permission before leaving the home and report on return. That in preparing food more consideration be given to the inmates' ages, their health, and their ability to chew.

State Public Service Commission Appointees May Get Confirmation

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Week-end conversations between legislative and Republican party leaders will determine finally whether the senate will confirm Gov. Gifford Pinchot's five public service commission appointments.

The conferences were slated today to be held during the present recess after the first week of the special relief session of the legislature so that a clear-cut program of action will be ready by Monday night to start the house's taxless relief financing measures skidding swiftly to enactment in the senate.

Action of the Public Service Commission is the only problem awaiting decision, senate leaders said. Approval of the relief bills by the upper house will be given in the second week, according to the spokesmen. There was no other business before the chamber.

Senate To Act Quickly
All the bills, transferring $14,661,000 from seven state funds and appropriating the money for relief and old age assistance, have passed the house and present plans call for a final vote in the senate Wednesday with sine die adjournment the same day.

Shifting sentiment on the question of confirmation of the commission members any or all of them, has been apparent since before the special session convened Wednesday.

Although they vigorously asserted the charges to be untrue, it was pointed out that confirmation of the commissioners this session, after they had been ignored in several previous sessions would tend to substantiate the charges.

The other two unconfirmed commissioners are Frederick P. Gruenberg and Thomas Egan, the latter a new appointee who succeeded the late George W. Woodruff.

It was decided to call interested elements of the upper chamber into conference before Monday night to decide upon a program which will not interrupt the machine-like advancement of the relief bills.

Meeting with senate leaders in these informal discussions were expected to be G. O. P. state candidates including M. Harvey Taylor, state chairman.

It was understood that Senator Chauncey Parkinson, Greene, I. leading the coterie of members who are favorable to confirmation of two and possibly three commissioners, P. Stephen Stahlnecker, Herman Goldberg and possibly Chairman C. Jay Goodnough. No united opposition to any of these three was in evidence but party leaders privately declare that the Democratic charges that governor Pinchot bargained for the confirmation of three commissioners for the taxless relief program and a closed session call have changed the pre-session picture.

State Public Service Commission Appointees May Get Confirmation

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Week-end conversations between legislative and Republican party leaders will determine finally whether the senate will confirm Gov. Gifford Pinchot's five public service commission appointments.

The conferences were slated today to be held during the present recess after the first week of the special relief session of the legislature so that a clear-cut program of action will be ready by Monday night to start the house's taxless relief financing measures skidding swiftly to enactment in the senate.

Action of the Public Service Commission is the only problem awaiting decision, senate leaders said. Approval of the relief bills by the upper house will be given in record time, according to the spokesmen. There was no other business before the chamber.

Senate To Act Quickly
All the bills, transferring $14,661,000 from seven state funds and appropriating the money for relief and old age assistance, have passed the house and present plans call for a final vote in the senate Wednesday with sine die adjournment the same day.

Shifting sentiment on the question of confirmation of the commissionerships any or all of them, has been apparent since before the special session convened Wednesday.

Although they vigorously asserted the charges to be untrue, it was pointed out that confirmation of the commissionerships this session, after they had been ignored in several previous sessions would tend to substantiate the reports.

The other two unconfirmed commissioners are Frederick P. Gruber and Thomas Egan, the latter a new appointee who succeeded the late George W. Woodruff.

Personal Mention
R. L. Boyd of North Jefferson street is a visitor in Erie today.

Mrs. Elma Ray, New Brighton, is visiting with friends in the city.

Miss Josephine Yeck of Northview avenue is leaving this evening for a short trip to the World's Fair at Chicago.

It was decided to call interested elements of the upper chamber into conference before Monday night to decide upon a program which will not interrupt the machine-like advancement of the relief bills.

It was understood that Senator Chauncey Parkinson, Greene, leading the coalition members who are favorable to confirmation of two and possibly three commissioners, P. Stephen Stahlacker, Herman Goldberg and possibly Chairman C. Jay Goodenough. No united opposition to any of these three was in evidence but party leaders privately declare that the Democratic charges that governor Pinchot bargained for the confirmation of three commissioners for the taxless relief program and a closed session call have changed the pre-session picture.

Although they vigorously asserted the charges to be untrue, it was pointed out that confirmation of the commissionerships this session, after they had been ignored in several previous sessions would tend to substantiate the reports.

may be. Dr. Locke responded as did Mrs. Locke.

About one hour was taken up by the executive session, this morning to which no one but members of the conference were admitted. At this session the candidates for entrance into the conference were discussed.

At the end of the session six young ministers were accepted by Bishop Blake and were asked the usual questions before being accepted. Following their acceptance he delivered an address that was something to remember. In it he charged the young men to carry on the traditions of the great church they were to represent, to carry on courageously in spite of privation and hardship and to so conduct themselves that souls would be saved and the work of God glorified.

Previously Dr. Allan MacRossie of the Board of Ministerial Training was presented and spoke briefly as did Dr. H. D. Bollinger of the Board of Education. This conference will be given over to a discussion on the Cribbs home, a discussion on "Homes and Hospitals", with the itinerant club finishing the afternoon session. Dr. W. E. RELIEF QUARTERS BEING PREPARED

Remodelling Of Former Knitting Mill Building Is Now Under Way

As fast as it is possible, the old New Castle Knitting Mill plant on South Mill street is being renovated and remodeled for the use of the Lawrence-Mercer-Butler area Emergency Relief work. Painters and carpenters and various other artisans are busy and rapid progress is being made.

Since the announcement of the taking over of the building, a number of wild stories have been circulated as to the cost of making the repairs. One story had it that the work was costing $25,000 and still another made it $75,000. The actual cost of the work including everything from preliminary cleaning to the last piece of work before the offices are filled with workers amounts to $8300.

Wants Indictment In Original Form

Marsden Drake Presents Petition In Connection With Recent Grand Jury Action

Marsden Drake, who was indicted by the grand jury this week on a charge of embezzlement by servant, has presented a petition to court, asking that an information made against him be re-instated in its original form. He claims that on July 7th, Joseph F. Travers for the New Castle Ice and Coal company, made an information against him before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing, charging him with the fraudulent appropriation of money belonging to his employer. The amount was $513.62. He was held for court and gave bail in the sum of $1000.

He now claims that after the hearing the information was amended and that his interest was thereby jeopardized. Reference to the alleged changes shows that they were an itemized statement of the money he was alleged to have collected from patrons of his employer, the total amounting to the same sum as alleged in the original charge. The court issued a rule on Alderman Ewing and District Attorney Mont L. Alley to show cause why the indictment should not be re-instated in its original form. The rule is returnable next week.

HELD FOR COURT ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Pleading guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and battery, Wayne Cooper, this city, was bound over to the December term of court Friday afternoon by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing. In default of bail he was sent to the county jail.

Cooper pleaded to the charge which Mrs. Eliah Kaplan placed against him as a result of an attack on her son, Yale, on Thursday night.

ALLEGES SHOES TAKEN DURING AN INQUEST

Harry Lent was placed in jail this morning to await hearing on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes from Constable R. B. Morrow. The shoes had just been purchased by Morrow and were in the alderman's office when they were taken during an inquest that was being held.

When arrested Lent claimed that he had been drinking and did not realize what he was doing.

GARDENER

Several tasks face the flower grower as he finishes this season and prepares for the next.

When frost has injured the tops of dahlias, cannas, or some of the tender summer-flowering bulbs, they should be dug up as soon as possible. The roots should be taken up carefully so that bruising will be avoided. Bruised roots or bulbs often decay and thus plants of value are lost.

A compost heap can be prepared in some out-of-the-way place. A small hole or pit can be dug in the extreme end of the garden for this purpose. Weeds which are free from disease or insect infestation may be mixed with sod, vegetable refuse, grass clippings, or fallen leaves. The heap should be moistened occasionally and turned over 2 or 3 times before the surface is frozen. Such compost heap can be made with little effort and will provide a supply of good rich soil next year.

All garden refuse should be collected and disposed of either on the compost heap or burned. A sharp sickle or some other sharp instrument can be used to cut off the dead tops and foliage of the perennials which have been killed by frost. All diseased and broken branches of shrubs and trees should be removed and burned.

BAG OR BASKET WORM ATTACKS MANY TREES

An insect of considerable economic importance in Pennsylvania, the bag-worm, has made very severe attacks on apple, elm, maple, and evergreen trees this year. In most years the work of this insect has been localized and mostly confined to arborvitae and other evergreens. This year, however, the damage has been state-wide.

The bag-worm hatch from eggs in May and June when they begin to feed on the softer portions of the leaves. The cases are soon formed by the larvae cutting small pieces of leaves and fastening them together with silk which they spin. These cases are upright at first but as the worms grow the bags are enlarged to accommodate them, and as they become heavy drop over and hang down.

As the larvae mature the bags are fastened to the twigs and then the worms transform to adults. The adult female is wingless and quite helpless. The male is a small, black winged moth which generally appears during September or October. The adult female remains in the sack where she deposits a large number of eggs in late autumn. The eggs remain in the bag where they hatch the following spring. Dispersal of the insect is dependent on the movement of the larvae and therefore is slow. The bags remaining on the trees all winter with eggs inside offer comparatively easy means of reducing the infestation. If these are removed the population will be greatly reduced.

senate at the rate of 4 pounds in 100 gallons of water as soon as the leaves appear should give the required protection. Apple orchards receiving the regular sprays thoroughly applied are rarely damaged by bag-worms.

CAREFUL PREPARATION MAKES GOOD PICKLES

Pickling time! Right away we think of that appetizing spicy aroma coming from the kitchen.

Does pickling refer to just cucumber pickles? No, fruit pickles, too, whole pickled peaches, crab apples, or pears cooked in a spicy sweet-sour syrup and relishes, such as tomato catsup and chili sauce, are included, says Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative.

Whatever the variety, the purpose of pickling is to get tart spice flavor through the vegetable or fruit, to keep or develop attractive color, and to give crispness, especially to vegetable pickles.

In pickling as for canning, use fresh fruits and vegetables in prime condition. If pickling whole cucumbers, peaches or other fruits, have them uniform in size so the pickling liquid penetrates and seasons them evenly, Miss Drury urges.

Overcooking pickled fruits like preserves impairs the texture and the flavor. To keep the fruits from shriveling and breaking up let them stand overnight after the first cooking in the sweet-sour syrup, then drain the syrup from the fruit, boil it down separately and pour again over the fruit, repeating as often as necessary. In this way the sugar has a chance to draw out the fruit juices while the fruit slowly absorbs the spicy syrup without shriveling, Miss Drury explains.

For cucumber pickles leave on one-eighth to one-fourth inch of the stem. Wash them before brining and put into the brine as soon after gathering as possible to prevent hollow cucumbers, Miss Drury directs. Soft pickles are the result of a brine too weak to stop the growth of bacteria causing spoilage. A 10 per cent solution—a brine in which a fresh egg will float—(one and two-thirds cups of salt to one gallon of water) is a necessary preventive. If a very sweet or a very sour pickle is desired the pickles should first be placed in a weak solution for a few days, after which the strength of the solution may be increased, Miss Drury says.

Too much salt or sugar or too strong vinegar will cause pickles to shrivel and become tough.

Pickles usually keep better if sealed airtight for storage. Add a snappy tang to your meals by serving a tart, spicy flavored vegetable or fruit, Miss Drury suggests.

Virginia Gates Believed Enroute To Home In East

(International News Service)

DENVER, Sept. 15.—Miss Virginia Ewing Gates, 23, daughter of Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, is hitch-hiking to her Philadelphia home from the Wyoming ranch to which she was exiled for wishing to marry a suitor who was in disfavor with her parents.

This theory, at least, still prevailed today among western peace officers who participated in the search for the missing heiress during its early stages.

Walked From Ranch.

Miss Gates was last seen when she left her saddle horse with a cowboy on the dude ranch operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dew on Aug. 14, with the declaration that she was going for a walk. Sheriff W. B. (Pat) Holt of Sublette county, Wyo., insisted that it was highly improbable that she had been lost and perished in the rugged Teton mountains. He pointed out it is but a short distance to a highway where she would have been able to pick up a ride.

Sheriff Holt's theory, that she is leisurely hitch-hiking across the country, was partially borne out by unconfirmed reports from Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., that she had been seen there.

Silver Spring is the most noted spring in Florida, and one of the largest in the world.

RELIEF QUARTERS BEING PREPARED

Remodelling Of Former Knitting Mill Building Is Now Under Way

As fast as it is possible, the old New Castle Knitting Mill plant on South Mill street is being renovated and remodeled for the use of the Lawrence-Mercer-Butler area Emergency Relief work. Painters and carpenters and various other artisans are busy and rapid progress is being made.

Since the announcement of the taking over of the building, a number of wild stories have been circulated as to the cost of making the repairs. One story had it that the work was costing $25,000 and still another made it $75,000. The actual cost of the work including everything from preliminary cleaning to the last piece of work before the offices are filled with workers amounts to $8300.

Wants Indictment In Original Form

Marsden Drake Presents Petition In Connection With Recent Grand Jury Action

Marsden Drake, who was indicted by the grand jury this week on a charge of embezzlement by servant, has presented a petition to court, asking that an information made against him be re-instated in its original form. He claims that on July 7th, Joseph F. Travers for the New Castle Ice and Coal company, made an information against him, charging him with the fraudulent appropriation of money belonging to his employer. The amount was $512.62. He was held for court and gave bail in the sum of $1000.

He now claims that after the hearing the information was amended and that his interest was thereby jeopardized. Reference to the alleged charges shows that they were an itemized statement of the money he was alleged to have collected from patrons of his employer, the total amounting to the same sum as alleged in the original charge. The court issued a rule on Alderman Ewing and District Attorney Mont L. Alley to show cause why the indictment should not be re-instated in its original form. The rule is returnable next week.

HELD FOR COURT ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Pleading guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and battery, Wayne Cooper, this city, was bound over to the December term of court Friday afternoon by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing. In default of bail he was sent to the county jail.

Cooper pleaded to the charge which Mrs. Eliah Kaplan placed against him as a result of an attack on her son, Yale, on Thursday night.

ALLEGES SHOES TAKEN DURING AN INQUEST

Harry Lent was placed in jail this morning to await hearing on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes from Constable R. B. Morrow. The shoes had just been purchased by Morrow and were in the alderman's office when they were taken during an inquest that was being held.

When arrested Lent claimed that he had been drinking and did not realize what he was doing.

ANSWER ALARM AT EARLY MORNING HOUR

City firemen answered an alarm from box 53 at 1:25 this morning, but on arriving at the box, located at Moravia and Reber streets, they were unable to find any sign of a fire.

GARDENER

Several tasks face the flower grower as he finishes this season and prepares for the next.

When frost has injured the tops of dahlias, cannas, or some of the tender summer-flowering bulbs, they should be dug up as soon as possible. The roots should be taken up carefully so that bruising will be avoided. Bruised roots of bulbs often decay and thus plants of value are lost.

A compost heap can be prepared in some out-of-the-way place. A small hole or pit can be dug in the extreme end of the garden for this purpose. Weeds which are free from disease or insect infestation may be mixed with sod, vegetable refuse, grass clippings, or fallen leaves. The heap should be moistened occasionally and turned over 2 or 3 times before the surface is frozen. Such compost heap can be made with little effort and will provide a supply of good rich soil next year.

All garden refuse should be collected and disposed of either on the compost heap or burned. A sharp sickle or some other sharp instrument can be used to cut off the dead tops and foliage of the perennials which have been killed by frost. All diseased and broken branches of shrubs and trees should be removed and burned.

An insect of considerable economic importance in Pennsylvania, the bag-worm, has made very severe attacks on apple, elm, maple, and evergreen trees this year. In most years the work of this insect has been localized and mostly confined to arborvitae and other evergreens. This year, however, the damage has been state-wide.

The bag-worm hatch from eggs in May and June when they begin to feed on the softer portions of the leaves. The cases are soon formed by the larvae cutting small pieces of leaves and fastening them together with silk which they spin. These cases are upright at first but as the worms grow the bags are enlarged to accommodate them, and as they become heavy droop over and hang down.

As the larvae mature the bags are fastened to the twigs and then the worms transform to adults. The adult female is wingless and quite helpless. The male is a small, black winged moth which generally appears during September or October. The adult female remains in the sack where she deposits a large number of eggs in late autumn. The eggs remain in the bag where they hatch the following spring.

Dissemination of the insect is dependent on the movement of the larvae and therefore is slow. The bags remaining on the trees all winter with eggs inside offer comparatively easy means of reducing the infestation. If these are removed the population will be greatly reduced.

Spraying the trees with lead arsenate.

But she couldn't cook, sew, bake a cake, or take care of babies well enough to win a poor chauffeur's heart!

(International News Service)
DENVER, Sept. 15.—Miss Virginia Ewing Gates, 23, daughter of Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, is hitch-hiking to her Philadelphia home from the Wyoming ranch to which she was exiled for wishing to marry a suitor who was in disfavor with her parents.

This theory, at least, still prevails today among western peace officers who participated in the search for the missing heiress during its early stages.

Walked From Ranch.
Miss Gates was last seen when she left her saddle horse with a cowboy on the dude ranch operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dew on Aug. 14, with the declaration that she was going for a walk. Sheriff W. B. (Pat) Holt of Sublette county, Wyo., insisted that it was highly improbable that she had been lost and perished in the rugged Teton mountains. He pointed out it is but a short distance to a highway where she would have been able to pick up a ride.

Sheriff Holt's theory, that she is leisurely hitch-hiking across the country, was partially borne out by unconfirmed reports from Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., that she had been seen there.

Unpleasant News.
Too Many Undertakers.
One Bear Went Crazy.
No 4-Day Week Yet.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

NEWS OF the strike is unpleasant. You read about a "Rhode Island mill town like a shambles after all night fighting, store fronts boarded in, bullet holes in buildings." You see photographs with soldiers behind barbed wire entanglements, strikers fighting in a quiet New England graveyard, and "state rounds up Communists."

GOV. GREEN, of Rhode Island, tells newspapermen:
"President Roosevelt personally called me up and I had a long and satisfactory talk with him."

The Governor says President Roosevelt will rush troops to Rhode Island if the Governor and his state militia are unable to handle the strike situation.

This recalls the old days, when Grover Cleveland was asked to send troops to Chicago, did so, and ended the strike there.

YOU KNEW there were too many lawyers; always too many musicians, since mechanical music for movies came in; too many brokers, since government ordained reform; even too many little pigs, so that government had to kill many of them, unborn.

But did you know that there are too many undertakers? Mr. Bert A. Waters, of Jersey City, a "mortalician," or "undertaker" to most of us, tells undertakers, gathered in Atlantic City, that for every person that dies in New Jersey, twelve undertakers are trying to "get the business."

There are too many licensed embalmers also, and New Jersey undertakers want the government to cut down the number. It must be creepy to know that there are always twelve undertakers waiting to get you.

IN THE GERMAN municipal zoo at Breslau, a big bear that had lived with its mate for eight years, apparently was made insane by the constant noise of a radio recently installed close to its cage. Every day the radio blaring made the bear more nervous. Finally, foolishly and unjustly, the bear "mercilessly clawed and killed its mate."

The crisis came at the end of a long political broadcasting campaign, during which the poor heard many speeches by Hitler and other Nazi geniuses.

THE INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION in Chicago, through four hundred delegates that represented 75,000 of the most intelligent, well-informed men in the country, have voted down a suggestion to establish the four-day week for printers. Under present conditions, the four-day week might be a little short.

But judging by present tendencies, the future may see the old command,

CHINA'S KUOMINTANG party, active patriots in the dinosaur empire, wants China to forget about the League of Nations and take "active military steps" to drive Japanese from Manchukuo. Kuomintang should send for their best fighter General Tsai Ting Kai, now in America. Yesterday he met several well known Americans on the invitation of his friend, Mr. K. C. Li, a Chinese gentleman of New York who deals in rare metals.

General Tsai Ting Kai, as commander-in-chief of the 19th Route Army of the Republic of China, defending Shanghai, is said to have held back the Japanese for only 30,000 Chinese soldiers against 60,000 Japanese. When Japan sent more soldiers, General Tsai Ting Kai still held them in check, in spite of airplanes overhead, and the guns of more than fifty Japanese warships. The Chinese general told American friends:

"The Japanese think themselves the greatest fighters in the world, and believe that they have the greatest fleet in the world, but some nation, before long, will teach them that they are mistaken."

Captain Joseph Patterson, you ought to know, says that he is a real fighter, and no fooling.

ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC discovery, most important if it stands the test of cold experiment, is revealed to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of cancer research laboratories. The kidneys in men and animals produce an enzyme, or biological catalyst called "phosphatase," that effectively resists the action of cancer. Human beings afflicted with cancer lack the phosphatase in the kidneys and have too much of it in the blood streams. Man's intelligence eventually will conquer all diseases.

Then the job will be to conquer the cancer of meanness, selfishness, cruelty and general devilry that thrives in the human consciousness.

THE LATE General Primo de Rivera, dictator in Spain for a little while, said the one good thing the Spanish government had done was to abolish gambling in Spain. He couldn't say that now. Spain, tired of seeing nearby French casinos in the shadow of the Pyrenees, at Biarritz, St. Jean de Luz, and elsewhere, is gathering in the gamblers' money will have a "gala reopening" of the gambling resorts at San Sebastian. You can always get money from human beings, even in the worst of times, by appealing to vice and weakness.

Then the job will be to conquer the cancer of meanness, selfishness, cruelty and general devilry that thrives in the human consciousness.

THE LATE General Primo de Rivera, dictator in Spain for a little while, said the one good thing the Spanish government had done was to abolish gambling in Spain. He couldn't say that now. Spain, tired of seeing nearly French casinos in the shadow of the Pyrenees, at Biarritz, St. Jean de Luz, and elsewhere, gathering in the gamblers' money, will have a "gala reopening" of the gambling rooms at San Sebastian. You can always get money from human beings, even in the worst of times, by appealing to vice and weakness.

Unpleasant News.

Too Many Undertakers.

One Bear Went Crazy.

No 4-Day Week Yet.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

NEWS OF the strike is unpleasant. You read about a "Rhode Island mill town like a shambles after all night fighting, store fronts bashed in, bullet holes in buildings." You see photographs with soldiers behind barbed wire entanglements, strikers fighting in a quiet New England graveyard, and "state rounds up Communists."

The number of active Communists must be greatly in excess of the alleged "26,000 enrolled Communist members."

GOV. GREEN, of Rhode Island, tells newspapermen:

"President Roosevelt personally called me up and I had a long and satisfactory talk with him."

The Governor says President Roosevelt will rush troops to Rhode Island if the Governor and his state militia are unable to handle the strike situation.

This recalls the old days, when Grover Cleveland was asked to send troops to Chicago, did so, and ended the strike there.

YOU KNEW there were too many lawyers; always too many musicians, since mechanical music for movies came in; too many brokers, since government ordained reform; even too many little pigs, so that government had to kill many of them, unborn.

But did you know that there are too many undertakers? Mr. Bert A. Waters, of Jersey City, a "mortician" or "undertaker" to most of us, tells undertakers, gathered in Atlantic City, that for every person that dies in New Jersey, twelve undertakers are trying to "get the business."

There are too many licensed embalmers also, and New Jersey undertakers want the government to cut down the number. It must be creepy to know that there are always twelve undertakers waiting to get you.

IN THE GERMAN municipal zoo at Breslau, a big bear that had lived with its mate for eight years, apparently was made insane by the constant noise of a radio recently installed close to its ears. Every day the radio blaring made the bear more nervous. Finally, foolishly and unthinkingly, the bear mercilessly clawed and killed its mate.

The crisis came at the end of a long political broadcasting campaign, during which the poor bear heard many speeches by Hitler and other Nazi geniuses.

THE INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION in Chicago, through four hundred delegates that represented 75,000 of the most intelligent, well-informed men in the country, have voted down a suggestion to establish the four-day week for printers. Under present conditions, the four-day week might be a little short.

But judging by present tendencies, the future may see the old command,

CHINA'S KUOMINTANG party, active patriots in the dinosaur empire, wants China to forget about the League of Nations and take "active military steps" to drive Japanese from Manchukuo. Kuomintang should send for their best fighter General Tsai Ting Kai, now in America. Yesterday he met several well known Americans on the invitation of his friend, Mr. K. C. Li, a Chinese gentleman of New York who deals in rare metals.

General Tsai Ting Kai, as commander-in-chief of the 19th Route Army of the Republic of China, defending Shanghai, is said to have held back the Japanese for more than thirty days, with only 30,000 Chinese soldiers against 60,000 Japanese. When Japan sent more soldiers, General Tsai Ting Kai still held them in check in spite of airplanes overhead, and the guns of more than fifty Japanese warships. The Chinese general told American friends:

"The Japanese think themselves the greatest fighters in the world, and believe that they have the greatest fleet in the world, but some nation, before long, will teach them that they are mistaken."

Tall, thin, very dark, speaking not a word of English, General Tsai Ting Kai would be exactly your idea of an Asiatic conqueror.

Another scientific discovery, most important if it stands the test of time, is revealed to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Ellise McDonald, director of cancer research laboratories. The kidneys in men and animals produce an enzyme, or biological catalyst called "phosphatase," that effectively resists the action of cancer.

Human beings afflicted with cancer lack the phosphatase in the kidneys and have too much of it in the blood streams. Man's intelligence eventually will conquer all diseases.

Then the job will be to conquer the cancer of meanness, selfishness, cruelty and general devilry that thrives in the human consciousness.

THE LATE General Primo de Rivera, dictator in Spain for a little while, said the one good thing the Spanish government had done was to abolish gambling in Spain. He could not say how, Spain, tired of seeing nearly French casinos in the shadow of the Pyrenees, at Biarritz, St. Jean de Luz, and elsewhere, gathering in the gamblers' money, will have a "gala reopening" of the gambling rooms at San Sebastian. NEW CASTLE DEFEATS BRADDOCK HIGH 13 TO 0

FLEMING-DeCAPRIO SCORE TOUCHDOWNS

Series Of Fumbles Mar Game—Crowd Of 3,000 Is Well Handled

New Castle High School football team opened the 1934 grid season at Taggart Stadium last night with a 13 to 0 victory over Braddock High. A crowd estimated at 3,000 witnessed the inaugural of another season. Charles "Chuck" Fleming and Domenick DeCaprio raced over for the two New Castle touchdowns, both coming on forward passes.

Very Fine Start
The 1933 class AA, W. P. I. A. A. champions got away to an auspicious start. Only four regulars from last year were in the game at the start. The boys were plainly nervous for the first period of the game. Many fumbles occurred on both sides.

Braddock High never got within the 20 yard line. Against the big New Castle line the Hudsonmen could only negotiate two first downs. New Castle had nine first downs.

Fleming Scores On Pass
It was almost the end of the first period when the first New Castle touchdown was made. Fred Shellogg intercepted a Braddock pass on the Braddock 28 yard line and Fleming ripped off a gain of seven yards through the line. Plisarek was injured and had to be taken out of the game. O'Toole went in for Braddock at right guard. Fleming made two yards more at tackle. From the 20 yard line Fleming pulled out of the backfield and sped down the field like a deer and reaching up snatched a pass from Brownie Ostrosky and raced over the goal line. It was a beautifully thrown pass and very well taken by Fleming. Alex Shellogg missed the extra point. Braddock had the ball on the kickoff when the first period ended.

Subs Get Chance
Play in the second period was a little more even. DeCaprio and Cox

He Was Afraid To Think Of Fall For Fear He's Think Of The Furnace.

You've known men like that... they think that word "Fall" brings them one step nearer to sitting ashes.

Nothing like it... why, Indian Summers often sneak into October and there is lots of Thanksgiving Football that is minus raccoon coats.

ran the ball for New Castle a few times and gained quite a little ground. A New Castle fumble on the 18 yard line was recovered by Davis of Braddock. The ball changed hands frequently on punts. Ostrosky was booting them for New Castle and Markowitz for Braddock after Plisarek left the game.

Slow Third Quarter
The third period was slow and failed to produce much in the way of thrilling football. Coach Bridenbaugh replaced Alex Shellogg at tackle with big "Gob" Falkvitch and sent Shellogg to fullback with Fleming. DeCaprio and Ostrosky his running mates. Alex Shellogg established himself as a coming line plunger by some nice exhibitions of ground gaining and with more experience will make a valuable backfield man. On almost the first play of the first period Shellogg ripped off a first down. As the third period closed Shellogg made a first down on the Braddock 40 yard line. Ostrosky and Fleming did some nice ground gaining in this quarter.

DeCaprio Scores Touchdown
With the fourth and final period about half over New Castle got the ball on a punt from Markowitz and started a sustained drive down the field, until the 19 yard line was reached. New Castle drew a penalty and in the 23 yard line when Brownie Ostrosky faded back and ripped a pass to Dom DeCaprio that the South Side boy gathered in and sped for the goal line. It was one of the most thrilling moments of the entire game. DeCaprio crossed up the entire Braddock team on this play. Shellogg kicked the extra point making it 13 to 0.

There was not much time left after the touchdown and extra point kicking and the play was mostly in the center of the field with both teams running in subs. Braddock High presented a smooth working team, with Rizer, Strohm and Plisarek the big guns in the backfield, and with Wuzzele a veteran from last year, and Benson playing good football. The Braddockmen made their two first downs on thrusts through the line with Rizer and Strohm carrying the ball. In forward passing the visitors did not look any too good, throwing ten forwards and failing to complete any.

As a whole the Red and Black team played a fine game, and only for the lack of experience would probably have beaten the visitors from Pittsburgh district by a larger score.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MARZ, JR.

THE CARDINALS
When speaking of the St. Louis Cardinals it has become a general policy to start talking about the Deans and finish with the same two players. "The Deans are responsible for the Cards' pennant fight. Jerome is the best right-hander in the league, and Paul is the best juvenile of the season," has been the extent of the publicity given St. Louis.

While not forgetting that the Deans are both great ball players, there are other Redbirds who are deserving of some notice. The Deans can't pitch every day and no matter how well they twirl somebody has to get a few runs for the Cards before they can win. They are both strike-out artists but they don't send down all the batters that way; somebody has to make the putouts and assists.

He is far ahead of Cuyler, his closest rival, even though he has missed many games due to injuries.

The St. Louis infield has completed 136 double plays, seven more than the Giants, who are second in this department. Collins, Frisch, Durocher, Martin and Whitehead make the Cardinal inner garden one of the strongest in the league.

You never hear very much about Rip Collins, diminutive first baseman from Altoona. Let only Mel Ott has hit more homers than Rip in the senior circuit. Mel has 33 while Collins has one less. In addition, Jimmy follows Ott in runs batted in and sports a .329 batting average which sets the pace for Cardinal batting.

Bill Delaney, first year catcher, besides having a batting mark of .328 has become a long distance clouter of note. Twelve homers, three triples and 19 doubles are among his 63 hits.

Nobody hears much about Joe Medwick except that he walks funny, but Joe has a .326 batting figure. Besides, his 95 runs-batted-in places him right behind Mel Ott and Collins in this batting department.

Manager Frisch has a .315 average which gives him the batting edge on all other National league second basemen. Frankie is still the class of the second sackers in the senior circuit.

Perhaps no infield reserve in the league has been more prominent than Burgess Whitehead. "Whitey" has filled in at second, short and third at different times and has done a fine job. The versatile Redbird has fielded cleanly at all stations and possesses a batting mark of .283.

Tex Carleton and Bill Walker have been hurling masterful ball—not as good as the Deans, maybe, but masterful hurling, nevertheless. According to latest averages Tex has the same number of victories as Paul Dean, 15.

We haven't mentioned Orsatti, Rohrbach, Davis and Crawford, all of whom are batting above .275. Then too, Bill Hallahan, Jesse Haines and Dazzy Vance have added to the Cardinals' pitching staff. According to the other day which indicates that anything can be expected from the Cards. Dazzy's homers are as numerous as fur coats in Florida.

So the Deans are not wholly responsible for the second place berth of the Cardinals. They are two great pitchers on a ball team with a strong infield, a hard hitting, aggressive young catcher and hitting strength supplied by Collins, Delaney, Medwick and Frisch.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—One week from today the 1934 edition of the Westminster college football team, guided by two new members, swings into action when the Slippery Rock State Teachers college eleven journeys here for the opening game.

Shenango Gridders Tie Zelenople, 0-0

First Contest Of 1934 Season On Friday Is Replete With Action

Shenango Line Looks Impressive; Irvine, McConahy Outstanding

Before a crowd of 400 staunch followers, the Shenango high school blue and gold football team inaugurated the 1934 season Friday afternoon on the Shenango field by holding the Zelenople high aggregation to a 0-0 deadlock.

Time and again the visitors threatened to score. The Shenango line held like a stone wall on four or five occasions. Both teams made an impressive showing.

In the opening quarter, the Zelenople team moved the ball to the 19-yard mark through the work of Sankey, a six foot three inch young man, and Simmons. A 15-yard penalty against the visitors turned Zelenople's chances of scoring at this point. On the next play, Frankenstein grabbed the ball and zig-zagged his way through left end for 17 yards, bringing the oval to the 17-yard chalk mark. Two line bucks and a pass failed as the first quarter ended with Shenango receiving the ball on downs on their own 17-yard line. Score, Shenango 0, Zelenople 0.

At the start of the second period, Williams, Shenango right tackle, thrilled the crowd by breaking thru the line and stopping Kustugic. Zelenople lost 7 yards on the play. Sankey hurried a beautiful pass to Simmons, who brought the ball to the 20-yard line before being stopped. The heave netted over 20 yards and a first down. Two line bucks by Simmons and Sankey moved the ball to the 5-yard line. Here the East New Castle eleven demonstrated real defensive ability by holding the visitors.

After Simmons pointed out of danger, Sankey tried the line but found the going rough. On the next play he kicked to the end zone and Shenango took the ball on the 20. The Shenango gridders tried one play, which failed. Hordig got back to kick but Kustugic recovered a blocked kick on the 11-yard line. A lateral pass, Sankey, just before the 20-yard line, netted Zelenople four yards. On the fourth play Sankey missed a first down by a foot as Shenango again took the ball in the shadow of the goal line. After Hordig kicked for Shenango, a pass, Sankey to McCormick, was good and moved the ball to the 8-yard line as the half ended. Score, Shenango 0, Zelenople 0.

The third quarter opened with Zelenople, Shenango tackle, blocking Sankey on the 40-yard line. Two plays netted Zelenople 10 yards, as the ball rested on the 30. A pass, Simmons to Kustugic, netted 18 yards. Zelenople tried three line plays which failed. Sankey's placement kick on the fourth down missed. Shenango was forced to punt again. On the first play following the kick Simmons hurried a perfect pass to Kustugic, who knifed his way to the 19-yard line before being stopped. Zelenople failed to gain any yardage as Shenango took the ball on downs and kicked out of danger as the quarter ended. Score, Shenango 0, Zelenople 0.

Most of the playing during the fourth quarter took place in mid-field with neither team making much headway until near the end of the period. Shenango rallied from the 45-yard line and through the splendid work of McConahy and Irvine, brought the ball to the 23-yard line on four plays. Zelenople called time out. After play resumed, Shenango failed on three plays and kicked to Simmons, who returned the ball to the 25. Another pretty pass, Sankey to Kustugic, was good for 15 yards, bringing the ball to the 23. Sankey cut tackle for five more. Sankey took the ball from Simmons on the next play and hurried it to Frankenstein, who made a nice catch on the 6-yard line. Zelenople tried three line plays but the Shenango wall was firm. On the fourth play, Sankey threw a pass over the goal line but it was broken up. After Shenango attempted two plays, the game ended. Score, Shenango 0, Zelenople 0.

Despite the fact that neither team scored, the contest was replete with action. Coach Edward Raney's Shenango team showed much defensive ability. The work of McConahy and Irvine in the backfield was outstanding for Shenango. Hordig played a whole of a game on the line. Sankey and Simmons were Zelenople's best bets in the backfield with Sutch and Fulton playing a good defensive contest on the line.

The lineup follows:
Shenango 0 Zelenople 0
Veresuk... L. E. ... Schildmante
Hordig (c)... L. T. ... Sproat
Petro... L. G. ... Ketterer
McIntire... R. G. ... Mickley

Ross-McLarnin Battle Tonight

Barney Ross Is 2 To 1 Favorite To Retain Welterweight Title

BOUT POSTPONED FOR TEN DAYS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Barney Ross, lightweight, junior welterweight and welterweight champion of the world, will crawl through the ropes in Madison Square Garden's Long Island City tonight a 2-1 choice to retain the last mentioned gem in his triple tiara, against the onslaught of the man from whom he won it—Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver.

All this, of course, provided Kid Pluvius doesn't score a fourth successive key on his old enemy, the weather man. The last mentioned gem's prediction for tonight is "cloudy."

If it doesn't rain some 40,000 cash customers will lay something like $200,000 gross on the line for the privilege of seeing Barney match an educated Jew against the sharp-roosting right of the determined Irishman.

Eager For Fight

You may have heard that the ten days' postponement has hurt or hurt the chances of either fighter. Forget it. These lads are first of all good business men and they are worrying more about the size of the gate than they are about each other. Neither will have any trouble making the weight. Both say they are ready and eager to go. Each, without urging, says he will win. Both promise to carry the fight to the other fellow.

There you have it all in a nutshell. The only question remaining is: Can Barney's educated left and superior speed keep him away from Jimmy's crushing right? If the combination works as it did last time, Ross will win. If not, Jimmy may tag him and he'll lose. Only the fight itself can answer the question.

Goldman-Little Play Today For Amateur Crown

San Franciscan Meets Texan For National Amateur Title At Brookline

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 15.—A Young man by the name of David Goldman of Dallas, Tex., who is a little annoyed about the fact that reports have quoted him as being of common origin, will meet W. Lawson Little, a very tremendous hitter, in the final round today in the national amateur championship. It would be very interesting if a man named Goldman could win this very annoying tournament. But the odds, say, by three to one, that Little not only should win but will.

If he does, Little will take his place with Harold Hilton, of whom one knows nothing, and Bobby Jones of whom one knows too much, as the only man who has won the British and American title in one and the same year. This is a distinction of which Mr. Little probably has very little qualms. He probably is all keyed up with this big chance of winning a national title and without a doubt, it hasn't occurred to him that he can parley two titles into one.

Yacht Race Is Set For Today

British Ship Endeavour And American Ship Rainbow Race For Cup

By CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR.
(Written For And Copyrighted, 1934, By International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—"May the best boat win."
In code letters these signals fly at the cross beams of the Endeavour and the Rainbow today. They are echoed from the throats of thousands of interested spectators, as the greatest marine regatta on earth winds its way out of Newport Harbor to the starting line.

The million dollar fleet is swarming out through the narrows to that infinitely important point ten miles away. Big yachts and little yachts, steam yachts and sailing yachts, Long Island commuters and New England coastal excursionists, the President of the United States aboard Vincent Astor's globe encircling floating palace Noumahal and Jane Doe on the chug chug Minnie Mouse from Mattapoisette down in Buzzards' Bay.

Ahead of them all towed by their faithful tenders ride the two gaudy swans that will be the cynosure of all eyes.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Followers of sports throughout the country will have plenty to read about tomorrow, as the calendar is crammed full of notable affairs, two of which will contain international interest. First in importance to the world at large is the international yacht race between England's Endeavour and America's Rainbow, which will defend the cup. Second in importance is the Barney Ross-Jimmy McLarnin welterweight fight, and polo will be witnessed when teams representing the East and West clash at Meadowbrook, L. I. The runners will participate in the Futurity for two-year-olds at Belmont Park, and this, too, will have its following. Locally there are baseball games, football clashes, and fans should have no trouble having their appetites for thrills filled. One of the games here tomorrow which will be watched by a big crowd will be at the Ryantown field, when the Farrell Greys clash with Ryantown.

A successor to Art Swisher, captain of the 1933 Mountaineers of West Virginia, may be known until immediately before West Virginia's game with Pitt, October 6. Coach Trusty Tailman is not ready to settle the issue, as there are 11 senior lettermen who are eligible and also that the by-laws of the constitution governing the captaincies of sports at West Virginia make both juniors and seniors eligible for the appointment.

Old Man Jinx trailed Wagners last year, and it looks as though he is back on the job this season, according to reports from the Yellow Jackets' college. Johnny Surdock, candidate for right halfback, was injured and he is said to be lost for the opening game against Duquesne University at Pittsburgh September 21.

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS BRADDOCK HIGH 13 TO 0

Series Of Fumbles Mar Game—Crowd Of 3,000 Is Well Handled

New Castle High School football team opened the 1934 grid season at Taggart Stadium last night with a 13 to 0 victory over Braddock High. A crowd estimated at 3,000 witnessed the inaugural of another season. Charles "Chuck" Fleming and Domenick DeCaprio raced over for the two New Castle touchdowns, both coming on forward passes.

Very Fine Start

The 1933 class AA, W. P. I. A. L. champions got away to an auspicious start. Only four regulars from last year were in the game at the start. The boys were plainly nervous for the first period of the game. Many fumbles occurred on both sides.

Braddock High never got within the 20 yard line. Against the big New Castle line the Hudsonmen could only negotiate two first downs. New Castle had nine first downs.

Fleming Scores On Pass

It was almost the end of the first period when the first New Castle touchdown was made. Red Shellogg intercepted a Braddock pass on the Braddock 28 yard line and Fleming ripped off a gain of seven yards through the line. Pisarek was injured and had to be taken out of the game. O'Toole went in for Braddock at right guard. Fleming made two yards more at tackle. From the 20 yard line Fleming pulled out of the backfield and sped down the field like a deer and reaching up snatched a pass from Brownie Ostrosky andaved over the goal line. It was a beautifully thrown pass and very well taken by Fleming. Alex Shellogg missed the extra-point. Braddock had the ball on the kickoff when the first period ended.

Ross-McLarnin Battle Tonight

Barney Ross Is 2 To 1 Favorite To Retain Welterweight Title

BOUT POSTPONED FOR TEN DAYS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Barney Ross, lightweight, junior welterweight and welterweight champion of the world, will crawl through the ropes in Madison Square Garden's Long Island 6 o'clock 2-1 fight to retain the title against the onslaught of the man from whom he won it—Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver.

All this, of course, provided Kid Pluvius doesn't score a fourth successive kayo over his old enemy, the weather man. The last mentioned gent's prediction for tonight is "cloudy."

If it doesn't rain some 40,000 cash customers will lay something like $200,000 gross on the line for the privilege of seeing Barney match an educated left against the sharp-rooting right of the determined Irishman.

Eager For Fight

You may have heard that the ten days' postponement has hurt or hurt the chances of either battler. Forget it. These lads are first of all good business men and they are worrying more about the size of the gate than they are about each other. Neither will have any trouble making the weight. Both say they are ready and eager to go. Each, without urging, says he will win. Both promise to carry the fight to the other fellow.

There you have it all in a nutshell. The only question remaining is: Can Barney's educated left and superior speed keep him away from Jimmy's crushing right? If the combination works as it did last time, Ross will win. If not, Jimmy may tag him and he'll lose. Only the fight itself can answer the question.

Goldman-Little Play Today For Amateur Crown

San Franciscan Meets Texan For National Amateur Title At Brookline

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 15.—A Young man by the name of David Goldman of Dallas, Tex., who is a little annoyed about the fact that reports have quoted him as being of common origin, will meet W. Lawson Little, a very tremendous hitter, in the final round today in the national amateur championship. It would be very interesting if a man named Goldman could win this very annoying tournament. But the odds, say, by three to one, that Little not only should win but will.

If he does, Little will take his place with Harold Hilton, of whom one knows nothing, and Bobby Jones of whom one knows too much, as the only man who has won the British and American title in one and the same year. This is a distinction of which Mr. Little probably has very little qualms. He probably is all keyed up with this big chance of winning a national title and without a doubt, it hasn't occurred to him that he can parley two titles into one.

Yacht Race Is Set For Today

British Ship Endeavour And American Ship Rainbow Race For Cup

(Written For And Copyrighted, 1934, By International News Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—May the best boat win.

In code letters these signals fly at the cross beams of the Endeavour and the Rainbow today. They are echoed from the throats of thousands of interested spectators, as the greatest marine pageant on earth wends its way out of Newport Harbor to the starting line.

The million dollar fleet is swarming out through the narrows to that infinitely important point ten miles away. Big yachts and little yachts, steam yachts and sailing yachts, Long Island commuters and New England coastal excursionists, the President of the United States aboard Vincent Astor's globe encircling floating palace Nourmahal and Jane Doe on the chug chug Minnie Mouse from Mattapoisette down in Buzzards' Bay.

Ahead of them all towed by their faithful tenders ride the two graceful swans that will be the cynosure of all eyes.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Followers of sports throughout the country will have plenty to read about tomorrow, as the calendar is crammed full of notable affairs, two of which will contain international interest. First in importance to the world at large is the international yacht race between England's Endeavour and America's Rainbow, which will defend the cup. Second in importance is the Barney Ross-Jimmy McLarnin welterweight fight, and polo will be witnessed when teams representing the East and West clash at Meadowbrook, L. I. The runners will participate in the Futurity for two-year-olds at Belmont Park, and this, too, will have its following. Locally there are baseball games, football clashes, and fans should have no trouble having their appetites for thrills filled. One of the games here tomorrow which will be watched by a big crowd will be at the Ryantown field, when the Farrell Greys clash with Ryantown.

A successor to Art Swisher, captain of the 1933 Mountaineers of West Virginia, may not be known until immediately before West Virginia's game with Pitt, October 6. Coach Trusty Tallman is not ready to settle the issue, as there are 11 senior lettermen who are eligible and also on the by-laws of the constitution governing the captaincies of sports at West Virginia make both juniors and seniors eligible for the appointment.

Old Man Jinx trailed Waynesburg last year, and it looks as though he is back on the job this season, according to reports from the Yellow Jackets' college. Johnny Surdock, candidate for right halfback, was injured and he is said to be lost for the opening game against Duquesne University at Pittsburgh September 21.

New clip earrings in enamel in natural colors and composed of two tiny pansies, are being made by Worth. They are mounted on silver.

Series Of Fumbles Mar Game—Crowd Of 3,000 Is Well Handled

New Castle High School football team opened the 1934 grid season at Taggart Stadium last night with a 13 to 0 victory over Braddock High. A crowd estimated at 3,000 witnessed the inaugural of another season. Charles "Chuck" Fleming and Domenick DeCaprio raced over for the two New Castle touchdowns, both coming on forward passes.

Very Fine Start
The 1933 class AA, W. P. I. A. L. champions got away to an auspicious start. Only four regulars from last year were in the game at the start. The boys were plainly nervous for the first period of the game. Many fumbles occurred on both sides.

Braddock High never got within the 20 yard line. Against the big New Castle line the Hudsonmen could only negotiate two first downs. New Castle had nine first downs.

Fleming Scores On Pass
It was almost the end of the first period when the first New Castle touchdown was made. Fred Shelloeg intercepted a Braddock pass on the 20 yard line and Fleming ripped off a gain of seven yards through the line. Pisarek was injured and had to be taken out of the game. O'Toole went in for Braddock at right guard. Fleming made two yards more at tackle. From the 20 yard line Fleming pulled out of the backfield and sped down the field like a deer and reaching up snatched a pass from Brownie Ostrosky and raced over the goal line. It was a beautifully thrown pass and very well taken by Fleming. Alex Shelloeg missed the extra-point. Braddock had the ball on the kickoff when the first period ended.

Subs Get Chance
Play in the second period was a little more even. DeCaprio and Cox ran the ball for New Castle a few times and gained quite a little ground. A New Castle fumble on the 18 yard line was recovered by Davis of Braddock. The ball changed hands frequently on punts. Ostrosky was leading them for New Castle and Markowitz for Braddock after Pisarek left the game.

Coach Bridenbaugh ran in almost a whole second team near the end of the quarter. Donegan, Mumford, Copple and Komine being in the backfield. The first half ended with New Castle taking the ball on a punt from Markowitz on the Braddock 25 yard line. New Castle had three first downs and Braddock two in the first half.

Slow Third Quarter
The third period was slow and failed to produce much in the way of thrilling football. Coach Bridenbaugh replaced Alex Shelloeg with tackle with big "Gob" Palkvitch and sent Shelloeg to fullback with Fleming. DeCaprio and Ostrosky his running mates. Alex Shelloeg established himself as a coming line plunger by some nice exhibitions of ground gaining and with more experience will make a valuable backfield man.

On almost the first play of the third period Shelloeg ripped off a first down. As the third period closed Shelloeg made a first down on the Braddock 49 yard line. Ostrosky and Fleming did some nine ground gaining in this quarter.

DeCaprio Scores Touchdown
With the fourth and final period about half over New Castle got the ball on a punt from Markowitz and started a sustained drive down the field, until the 19 yard line was reached. New Castle drew a penalty and had the ball on the 21 yard line when Brownie Ostrosky faded back and rifled a pass to Dom DeCaprio that the South Side boy gathered in and sped for the goal line. It was one of the most thrilling moments of the entire game. DeCaprio crossed up the entire Braddock team on this play. Shelloeg kicked the extra point making it 13 to 0.

There was not much time left after the touchdown and extra point kicking and the play was mostly in the center of the field with both teams running in subs.

Braddock High presented a smooth working team, with Rizer, Strohm and Platek the big guns in the backfield, and with Wuzie a veteran from last year, and Benson playing good football. The Braddockmen made their two first downs on thrusts through the line with Rizer and Strohm carrying the ball. In forward passing the visitors did not look any too good, throwing ten forwards and failing to complete any.

As a whole the Red and Black team played a fine game, and only for the lack of experience would probably have beaten the visitors from Pittsburgh district by a larger score.

The summary:
New Castle 13 Braddock 0
Wosky L E Gates

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.
THE CARDINALS

When speaking of the St. Louis Cardinals it has become a general policy to start talking about the Deans and finish with the same two players. "The Deans are responsible for the Cards' pennant fight, Jerome is the best right-hander in the league, and Paul is the best juvenile of the season," has been the extent of the publicity given St. Louis.

While not forgetting that the Deans are both great ball players, there are other Redbirds who are deserving of some notice. The Deans can't pitch every day and no matter how well they twirl somebody has to get a few runs for the Cards before they can win. They don't get strike-out artists but they don't get down all the batters that way; somebody has to make the putouts and assists.

Pepper Martin, the third baseman, is leading the league in stolen bases.

He is far ahead of Cuyler, his closest rival, even though he has missed many games due to injuries. The St. Louis infield has completed 136 double plays, seven more than the Giants, who are second in this department. Collins, Frisch, Durocher, Martin and Whitehead make the Cardinal inner garden one of the strongest in the league.

You never hear very much about Rip Collins, diminutive first baseman from Altoona. Let, only Mel Ott has hit more homers than Rip in the senior circuit. Mel has 33 while Collins has one less. In addition, Jimmy follows Ott in runs batted in and sports a .329 batting average which sets the pace for Cardinal batting.

Bill Delaney, first year catcher, besides having a batting mark of .328 has become a long distance clouter of note. Twelve homers, three triples and 19 doubles are among his 63 hits.

Nobody hears much about Joe Medwick except that he walks funny, but Joe has a .328 batting figure. Besides, his 95 runs-batted-in places him right behind Mel Ott and Collins in this batting department.

Manager Frisch has a .315 average which gives him the batting edge on all other National league second basemen. Frankie is still the class of the second sackers in the senior circuit.

Perhaps no infield reserve in the league has been more proficient than Burgess Whitehead. "Whitey" has filled in at second, short and third at different times and has done a fine job. The versatile Redbird has fielded cleanly at all stations and possesses a batting mark of .283.

Tex Carleton and Bill Walker have been hurling masterful ball—not as good as the Deans, maybe, but masterful hurling, nevertheless. According to latest averages Tex has the same number of victories as Paul Dean, 15.

We haven't mentioned Orsatti, Rothrock, Davis and Crawford, all of whom are batting above .270. Then too, Bill Hallahan, Jesse Haines and Dazzy Vance have aided the four starters. Dazzy hit a homer the other day which indicates that anything can be expected from the Cards. Dazzy's homers are as numerous as fur coats in Florida.

So the Deans are not wholly responsible for the second place berth of the Cardinals. They are two great pitchers on a ball team with a strong infield, a hard hitting, aggressive young catcher and batting strength supplied by Collins, Delaney, Medwick and Frisch.

Shenango Gridders Tie Zelenople, 0-0

First Contest Of 1934 Season On Friday Is Replete With Action

Shenango Line Looks Impressive; Irvine, McCornahy Outstanding

Before a crowd of 400 staunch followers, the Shenango high school blue and gold football team inaugurated the 1934 season Friday afternoon on the Shenango high field by holding the Zelenople high aggregation to a 0-0 deadlock.

Time and again the visitors threatened to score. The Shenango line held like a stone wall on four or five occasions. Both teams made an impressive showing.

In the opening quarter, the Zelenople team moved the ball to the 15-yard mark through the work of Sankey, a six foot three inch young man, and Simmons. A 15-yard penalty against the visitors ruined Zelenople's chances of scoring at this point. On the next play, Frankenstein grabbed the ball and zig-zagged his way through left end for 17 yards, bringing the oval to the 17-yard mark. Two line bucks and a pass failed as the first quarter ended with Shenango receiving the ball on downs on their own 17-yard line. Score, Shenango 0, Zelenople 0.

At the start of the second period, Williams, Shenango right tackle, thrilled the crowd by breaking thru the line and stopping Kustugic, Zelenople's star. Sankey, who played the ropes in Madison Square Garden's Long Island City, tonight a 2-1 choice to retain the last mentioned gem in his triple tiara, against the onslaught of the man from whom he won it—Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver.

All this, of course, provided Kid Pluvie doesn't score a fourth successive kny over his old enemy, the weather man. The last mentioned gent's prediction for tonight is "cloudy."

If it doesn't rain some 40,000 cash customers will lay something like $200,000 down on the line for the privilege of seeing Barney match an educated left against the sharp-roosting right of the determined Irishman.

Goldman-Little Play Today For Amateur Crown

San Franciscan Meets Texan For National Amateur Title At Brookline

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 15.—A Young man by the name of David Goldman of Dallas, Tex., who is a little annoyed about the fact that reports have quoted him as being of common origin, will meet W. Lawson Little, a very tremendous hitter, in the final round today in the national amateur championship. It would be very interesting if a man named Goldman could win this very annoying tournament. But the odds, say, by three to one, that Little not only should win but will.

If he does, Little will take his place with Harold Hilton, of whom one knows nothing, and Bobby Jones of whom one knows too much, as the only man who has won the British and American title in one and the same year. This is a distinction of which Mr. Little probably has very little qualms. He probably is all keyed up with this big chance of winning a national title and without a doubt, it hasn't occurred to him that he can parley two titles into one.

Yacht Race Is Set For Today
A successor to Art Swisher, captain of the 1933 Mountaineers of West Virginia, may not be known until immediately before West Virginia's game with Pitt, October 6. Coach Crusty Tallman is not ready to settle the issue, as there are 11 senior lettermen who are eligible and also that the by-laws of the constitution governing the captaincies of sports at West Virginia make both juniors and seniors eligible for the appointment.

Old Man Jinx trailed Waynesburg last year, and it looks as though he is back on the job this season, according to reports from the Yellow Jackets' college. Johnny Surdock, candidate for right halfback, was injured and he is said to be lost for the opening game against Duquesne University at Pittsburgh September 21.

Next Conference At Ridgway, Pa.

Methodists Select Place Of Meeting For 1935 At Friday Session

MISSIONARY WOMEN SELECT OFFICERS

Ridgway, Pa., will be the scene of the 1935 Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. This city was selected Friday afternoon by the united session of the conference and was made unanimous on the second ballot. Wesley church of Erie was a claimant for the honor but the first ballot showed a preponderance of the delegates favoring Ridgway and the selection was made unanimous.

A rather momentous decision was reached by the conference during the afternoon session. It was decided that henceforth candidates for acceptance on trial for the ministry must have had four years of college training. This means that before a minister can be accepted as a member of the conference he must comply with a strict educational requirement. It will not affect local preachers or deacons as they are not now nor have they been members of the conference. A local preacher can supply a pulpit, can transact all the duties of a minister but is not a member of the conference.

Elevate Standards.

The decision was reached as a step towards the elevation of the standards of the ministry. For some years this practice has been in use but has never been a law of the conference. Each year sees a larger number of men desiring to get into the ministry and it is felt that the four-year college requirement will guarantee able ministers for the future.

Early in the day the Women's Foreign Missionary society held its annual business meeting with Mrs. Charles Kennedy, the corresponding secretary, in charge. As this is a unit of the larger organization no president is selected. The following officers were re-elected: Secretary, Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Granesville, Pa.; treasurer for auxiliary, Mrs. F. A. Edwards, Emmett; secretary of extension work, Mrs. F. S. Neigh, Union City; secretary interdenominational work, Mrs. S. Truman, Brookville; secretary of publicity, Mrs. C. S. Benscoter, Brookville; secretary field supply, Mrs. George Copeland, Erie; secretary of literatures, Mrs. P. A. Good-nough, Waterford, Pa.

To Name Commission.

In the afternoon united session of the ministers and laymen it was decided to have a commission appointed to investigate the method of apportioning conference claimants' money by the churches and to suggest a plan designed to more fully equalize the present plan. It was argued by Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, formerly of New Castle but now of Grace church, Oil City, the sponsoring church for the resolution, that some churches had been derelict in their duty towards conference claimants, in spite of the fact that other claims were paid in full. Rev. Maxwell urged that the laymen of the church be given some opportunity to investigate the problem of apportioning these claims and urged the adoption of the resolution. After some discussion and some opposition by Rev. H. H. Barr of Franklin the resolution prevailed.

Dr. Frank T. Cartwright, associate secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, was introduced and spoke briefly upon the work of the overseas missionaries. He is an eloquent speaker and urged that the contributions for the foreign work be continued. He said that the work had already been hampered by lack of funds but urged that no further decrease be permitted.

While the united session was meeting in the Epworth auditorium the Women's Foreign Missionary society was meeting in the Reformed Presbyterian church with Miss Gertrude Hanks, former New Castle girl, as the speaker. Mrs. Hanks taught in the New Castle senior high school from 1917 to 1920 but since 1920 has been director of the High School for Girls in Lima, Peru. In a pleasingly descriptive manner she told of the work of the school, the difficulties sometimes encountered and the worthwhileness of the project. The school is under the direction of the Methodist Episcopal church but gets support from the Peruvian government.

Itinerants Club.

At 4 o'clock "The Itinerants club" held another of its interesting meetings with Dr. W. E. Hammaker of Youngstown, O., as the speaker again. It was a very interesting address, sparkling with wit at times, driving home a point in serious fashion, illustrating his thoughts with timely stories. Dr. Hammaker again thrilled the ministers who were present. At 5:30 the meeting adjourned for dinner. In addition to the regular dinner, the Methodist Brotherhood held its annual dinner in the main dining room with Dr. S. E. Garth, pastor of Christ M. E. church as the speaker. The dining room was filled for the dinner and the members heard an address that was worthy of the highest traditions of the church.

At 7:30 the Board of Education held its session with Dr. T. E. Collier presiding and Dr. H. D. Bollinger as the speaker. Dr. Bollinger dwelt upon the necessity of education for the purpose of spreading the gospel and spoke in a crisp incisive fashion. His was the last address of the day, the pageant "The Spreading Flame" following it. A description of the pageant can be found in other columns.

NRA Posters Available Now

Those Who Cannot Call For Poster Will Have It Delivered To Them

EXPECT USE TO BECOME GENERAL

Every business man and business firm that believes the conspicuous display of the Blue Eagle has played a prominent part in the nation's progress towards recovery, will wish to secure one of the new lithographed posters which are now being distributed by the local NRA Committee. The poster is a striking one, in three colors, designed by Charles Collier, the artist, who sketched the original Blue Eagle.

Each firm or individual, possessing a Blue Eagle Code Card, is entitled to one of these posters. There is no cost connected with securing the poster. Merchants may call in person or write or telephone to the local Compliance Board at the Chamber of Commerce and upon presenting evidence of possession of the Code Eagle, the poster will be delivered. Because of its beauty, the poster will prove a welcome addition to advertising in window displays. It is anticipated that within a short time, its use will be almost as general as was the spontaneous showing of the original Blue Eagle, when it was first released to the country a little more than a year ago.

"You cannot make too much display of the Blue Eagle," says Marcus Feuchtwanger, local chairman. "That it has great value, when intelligently used, is beyond dispute. It is a constant reminder that continued cooperation is essential if we are to continue to advance along the road to complete recovery."

To Name Commission.
In the afternoon united session of the ministers and laymen it was decided to have a commission appointed to investigate the method of apportioning conference claimant's money by the churches and to suggest a plan designed to more fully equalize the present plan. It was argued by Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, formerly of New Castle but now of Grace church, Oil City, the sponsoring church for the resolution, that some churches had been delinquent in their duty towards conference claimants, in spite of the fact that other claims were paid in full. Rev. Maxwell urged that the laymen of the church be given some opportunity to investigate the problem of apportioning these claims and urged the adoption of the resolution. After some discussion and some opposition by Rev. H. H. Barr of Franklin the resolution prevailed.

While the united session was meeting in the Epworth auditorium the Women's Foreign Missionary society was meeting in the Reformed Presbyterian church with Miss Gertude Hanks, former New Castle girl, as the speaker. Miss Hanks taught in the New Castle senior high school from 1917 to 1920 but since 1920 has been director of the High School for Girls in Lima, Peru. In a pleasingly descriptive manner she told of the work of the school, the difficulties sometimes encountered and the worthwhileness of the project. The school is under the direction of the Methodist Episcopal church but gets support from the Peruvian government.

Itinerants Club.
At 4 o'clock "The Itinerants club" held another of its interesting meetings with Dr. W. E. Hammaker of Youngstown, O., as the speaker again. It was a typical Hammaker address. Sparking with wit at times, driving home a point in serious fashion, illustrating his thoughts with timely stories, Dr. Hammaker again thrilled the ministers who were present. At 5:30 the meeting adjourned for dinner. In addition to the regular dinner, the Methodist Brotherhood held its annual dinner in the main dining room with Dr. S. E. Garth, pastor of Christ M. E. church, as the speaker. The dining room was filled for the dinner and the members heard an address that was worthy of the highest traditions of the church.

At 7:30 the Board of Education held its session with Rev. T. E. Colley presiding and Dr. H. D. Bollinger as the speaker. Dr. Bollinger dwelt upon the necessity of education for the purpose of spreading the gospel and spoke in a crisp incisive fashion. His was the last address of the day, the pageant "The Spreading Flame" following it. A description of the pageant can be found in other columns.

Every business man and business firm that believes the conspicuous display of the Blue Eagle has played a prominent part in the nation's progress towards recovery, will wish to secure one of the new lithographed posters which are now being distributed by the local NRA Committee. The poster is a striking one, in three colors, designed by Charles Collier, the artist, who sketched the original Blue Eagle.

Each firm or individual, possessing a Blue Eagle Code Card, is entitled to one of these posters. There is no cost connected with securing the poster. Merchants may call in person or write or telephone to the local Compliance Board at The Chamber of Commerce and upon presenting evidence of possession of the Code Eagle, the poster will be delivered. Because of its beauty, the poster will prove a welcome addition to advertising in window displays. It is anticipated that within a short time, its use will be almost as general as was the spontaneous showing of the original Blue Eagle, when it was first released to the country a little more than a year ago.

"You cannot make too much display of the Blue Eagle," says Marcus Feuchtwanger, local chairman. "That it has great value, when intelligently used, is beyond dispute. It is a constant reminder that continued cooperation is essential if we are to continue to advance along the road to complete recovery."

Next Conference At Ridgway, Pa.

Methodists Select Place Of Meeting For 1935 At Friday Session

MISSIONARY WOMEN SELECT OFFICERS

Ridgway, Pa., will be the scene of the 1935 conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. This city was selected Friday afternoon by the united session of the conference and was made unanimous on the second ballot. Wesley church of Erie was a claimant for the honor but the first ballot showed a preponderance of the delegates favoring Ridgway and the selection was made unanimous.

A rather momentous decision was reached by the conference during the afternoon session. It was decided that henceforth candidates for acceptance on trial for the ministry must have had four years of college training. This means that before a minister can be accepted as a member of the conference he must comply with a strict educational requirement. It will not affect local preachers or deacons who are not now nor have they been members of the conference. A local preacher can supply a minister but is not a member of the conference.

The decision was reached as a step toward the elevation of the standards of the ministry. For some years this practice has been in use but has never been a law of the conference. Each year sees a larger number of men desiring to get into the ministry and it is felt that the four-year college requirement will guarantee able ministers for the future.

Early in the day the Women's Foreign Missionary society held its annual business meeting with Mrs. Charles Kennedy, the corresponding secretary, in charge. As this is a part of the larger organization no president is selected. The following officers were re-elected: Secretary, Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Cranestown, Pa.; treasurer for auxiliary, Mrs. F. A. Sims, Erie, Pa.; treasurer for young people's department, Mrs. K. C. Vollbrecht, Erie, Pa.; superintendent junior department, Mrs. Chester Braun, Franklin; secretary of literature, Mrs. J. B. Edwards, Emmitt; secretary of extension work, Mrs. F. S. Neigh, Union City; secretary of international work, Mrs. S. Truman, Brookville; secretary of publicity, Mrs. C. S. Bencker, Brookville; secretary field supply, Mrs. George Copeland, Erie; secretary of itineraries, Mrs. P. A. Good-nough, Waterford, Pa.

To Name Commission.
In the afternoon united session of the ministers and laymen it was decided to have a commission appointed to investigate the method of apportioning conference claimants' money by the churches and to suggest a plan designed to more fully equalize the present plan. It was argued by Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, formerly of New Castle but now of Grace church, Oil City, the sponsoring church for the resolution, that some churches had been derelict in their duty towards conference claimants, in spite of the fact that other claims were paid in full. Rev. Maxwell urged that the laymen of the church be given some opportunity to investigate the problem of apportioning these claims and urged the adoption of the resolution. After some discussion and some opposition by Rev. H. H. Barr of Franklin the resolution prevailed.

Dr. Frank T. Cartwright, associate secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, was introduced and spoke briefly on the work of the overseas missionaries. He is an eloquent speaker and urged that the contributions for the foreign work be continued. He said that the work had already been hampered by lack of funds but urged that no further decrease be permitted.

When the united session was meeting in the Epworth auditorium the Women's Foreign Missionary society was meeting in the Reform Presbyterian church with Miss Gertrude Hanks, former New Castle girl, as the speaker. Miss Hanks taught in the New Castle senior high school from 1917 to 1920 but since 1920 has been director of the High School for Girls in Lima, Peru, a pleasingly descriptive manner she told the work of the school, the difficulties sometimes encountered and the worthwhileness of the project. The school is under the direction of the Methodist Episcopal church but gets support from the Peruvian government.

Itinerant Club.
At 4 o'clock "The Itinerant club" held another of its interesting meetings with Dr. W. E. Hammaker of Youngstown, O., as the speaker again. It was a typical Hammaker address. Sparking with wit at times, driving home a point in serious fashion, illustrating his thoughts with timely stories, Dr. Hammaker again thrilled the ministers who were present. Dr. Bollinger dwelt upon the necessity of education for the purpose of spreading the gospel and spoke in a crisp incisive fashion.
